

Nonstop Session Is Seen

Top Priority Legislation Is the Reason

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tuesday of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. And House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of Jan. 3. The first session of the 88th Congress must—by law—end at noon that day.

If the Senate convenes in the morning of Jan. 3, it will stop at noon and reconvene one minute later to start the second session, Mansfield said.

The Senate will be faced with a bigger load in November and December than the House.

The House has passed one of President Kennedy's two top priority bills, the $11-billion tax cut. The other, a civil rights bill, was approved in committee Tuesday. Both are in the hearing stage in the Senate.

The limitations of the calendar appeared to make it almost certain that Congress cannot pass the bills this year.

City Problem Is Politics, Group Finds

Impartial evaluators have observed one of Sedalia's main hindrances as partisan politics, when issues bearing on community betterment are at stake, said Bob Storey Tuesday afternoon, in an address to the second meeting of the steering committee of the city's Community Betterment program.

The evaluation was made by volunteer Missouri citizens from other parts of the state, who have been organized to make constructive criticism of communities under the program, which is sponsored by the Missouri Division of Commerce and Industrial Development, Storey pointed out.

Storey is with the Missouri Public Service Co., one of the sponsoring companies of the program. He and Sam Boyle, who was elected general chairman Tuesday, explained the program. Awards for participating communities have been authorized by Governor John M. Dalton. Storey, Bob Clark, Jefferson City, and Boyle were introduced by Captain Marjorie Weber, president of Business and Professional Women's Club, the group which initiated the program in Sedalia recently.

After Sedalia takes an honest look of self-appraisal, a long-range and short-range, or two short range, projects are to be selected. It is hoped communities will develop better images.

Station Robbery Is Not So Easy, Two Negroes Find

Two young Negro men threatened a Sedalia service station attendant early Wednesday morning, but ran away hurriedly when the attendant pulled a gun from his pocket.

August Egner, an attendant at Brown's Service Station on Missouri Avenue just north of the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks, told police at 3:56 a.m. that the two young Negroes entered the station, one grabbed Egner's arm, turned him around, threatened him with a small pen knife and said, "Give it up."

Police said when Egner pulled a gun from his pocket, the youths ran out the station door and fled east on Benton Street.

The Negroes were described as about 18 years of age, about 5-foot-8 and 5-foot-6-inches in height, wearing black pants, white shirts and bareheaded. Police are investigating.

A GOP Warning

Fingers Crossed On 'Rights' Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans kept their fingers crossed today as they received administration praise for helping to launch a strong civil rights bill in Congress.

The Republicans have warned the administration all pledges of support for the compromise measure are off if the Democrats seek to make any political gain out of civil rights at their expense.

At the moment, though, bipartisanship was holding firm and the long bottled-up legislation finally began to move through the House.

Even with President Kennedy, Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck behind it, however, the far-reaching compromise bill faces delays and obstacles.

The most optimistic estimate heard Tuesday after the House Judiciary Committee approved the bill by a 23-11 vote was that it would be mid-November before it gets to the House floor.

The time will be needed to write a report on the measure and hold hearings in the Southern-dominated Rules Committee.

The biggest obstacle remains the Senate, however, where it is accepted as fact that a Southern filibuster will have to be broken by a two-thirds majority vote if any bill is to be passed.

Fire Destroys Home In Green Ridge; Firemen Kept Busy

Fire destroyed a four-room vacant house in Green Ridge Tuesday night, but Green Ridge and Pettis County firemen were able to keep the blaze from spreading.

No value was set by the owner of the house, Mrs. Mabel Wharton.

Neighbors noticed the fire burning in the roof of the home about 9:30 p.m. and the blaze was believed to have originated in the attic.

Green Ridge firemen sprayed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Green, the next door east, and prevented damage to it. Pettis County firemen arrived on the scene later and assisted in hosing down the ashes and surrounding area.

Some sign placement and cleanup work remains to be done on the eastbound lane, the highway official stated, but it will be completed as soon as possible. His unofficial estimate of the date was "somewhere near Thanksgiving," depending on weather conditions.

Opening of the new segment of I-70 increases to about 40 or 45 miles an uninterrupted stretch from west of Boonville to east of Columbia.

J. A. Tobin Construction Co. of Kansas City are contractors for the new stretch of highway west of Boonville. Contracts were let separately for sections east and west of the bridge. Contract for the work west of the river was let September 1961 for $3,293,388, and the section east of the bridge in August 1962 for $4,389,702.

Both sections are under the supervision of District 5 of the State Highway department with P. G. Parrish as district engineer, Coy L. Breuer, construction engineer, and E. L. Stuart, resident engineer in active charge.

Warrensburg, Mo. (AP) — Six students at Central Missouri State College were suspended today after a campus disturbance Tuesday night.

Dr. Warren C. Lovinger, the president, said 12 others were placed on disciplinary probation.

About 150 students, most of them freshmen, moved across the campus shouting and lighting firecrackers. College officials said there was no damage or injuries.

Three predicted a dark horse or a compromise candidate will emerge if Goldwater and Rockefeller wear each other out at the convention.

The Associated Press sent questionnaires to all GOP chairmen in the 114 counties and the City of St. Louis. They were asked two questions:

(1) Who is the strongest potential GOP candidate against Kennedy on the basis of present conditions? (2) Whom do you think the Republican party will nominate in 1964? They were invited to give their reasons.

Fifty-one county chairmen replied and most of them signed their names.

To the first question, 47 listed Goldwater as the strongest as of now. Two said Rockefeller, one listed Nixon and one Morton.

On the second question, 37 said Goldwater will win the nomination. Two predicted it will be Rockefeller. One said Morton. One listed either Romney or Scranton, another named Milton Eisenhower.

Others said it will be Nixon or Rockefeller, Nixon or Goldwater or Nixon if a deadlock develops between Goldwater and Rockefeller.

Many said Goldwater is the front runner because he has expressed conservative views and because his nomination would provide a clear choice between conservative policies and the Kennedy New Frontier.

Here are some typical comments:

"Goldwater. The people want a choice and not a candidate who stands for the same things the Kennedys do but only say 'we can do it better'."—Ralph Crow, Rolla.

"Goldwater. Rockefeller has decreased in popularity. Goldwater has a very good image and he is popular with the young Republicans."

"Goldwater. Rockefeller has been hurt by the unnecessary uproar over his wife. Goldwater is the only possible candidate who could defeat Kennedy."

He offers a choice whereas other candidates would be 'me too'."

"Goldwater. I think the South would vote for Goldwater not only for the racial part but the South has usually been a more conservative element and the senator will fill the bill."

"Goldwater, for the reason that, though it will not be discussed in open debate, I believe that the civil rights issue is and will be the real issue in the election of 1964, and Mr. Goldwater's ideas are better known to the Republicans who will be elected as delegates than any other candidate."

"Goldwater — strong grass roots appeal" — Bernard R. Wheatley, Poplar Bluff.

"Goldwater—the people are for a change."

One county chairman who predicted a dark horse would be nominated even though he thought Goldwater was the strongest candidate commented: "They have never picked a true conservative in 30 years."

Another predicted Milton Eisenhower "will be a compromise candidate after the political smoke all clears."

Another said Goldwater is the rank and file choice, but: "I do not think Goldwater has a chance to be nominated because the party bigwigs are afraid of a man who would wreck all the government programs and free spending. Who the man will be is yet to be determined but for sure not Rocky."—Tom Cash, Bragg City.

Joseph M. Whalen, Jefferson County chairman, picked Rockefeller as the strongest because of his executive experience and "by far the best campaigner, able to interest all strata of the American public."

Another picked Goldwater as strongest but predicted: "Ultimately the conservative extremists will dump Goldwater and back a candidate such as Gen. Edwin Walker."

Guerrillas Smash Viet Nam Forces

List Three US Advisors Missing, Possibly Captured

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas smashed a crack South Vietnamese task force Tuesday and probably captured the three U.S. Army advisers with the 120-man task force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

A second government force of about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, learned of the battle too late to help. U.S. authorities said Communist radio jammers knocked out the channels on all local military radios.

The operation cost the Vietnamese special forces an estimated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown.

"The day ended with the enemy in command of the field," a high-ranking American officer said.

Names of the missing Americans were not announced.

The U.S. casualty list rose to four late Tuesday when the Air Force pilot of a light spotting plane was hit by machine gun fire. The pilot flew back to his base, however.

Tuesday's fight was in the same area 140 miles southwest of Saigon where another government unit took a beating Oct. 19.

Archaeologists Seeking Lost French Fort

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP) — A team of archaeologists is combing the Missouri River bottoms near Van Meter State Park for a lost French fort.

Fort Orleans has been lost a long time and the searchers agree it's a long chance they'll find it.

The fort was established in 1723 by a French commander named Bourgoin and occupied by his garrison until 1728. A map during that period located it not far from the Missouri Indian Village that is now incorporated in Van Meter Park.

Rain, Snow Eases Some Dry Areas

Some States Lift Bans On Fires As Others Remain Dry

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain and snow eased drought conditions and forest fire hazards in sections of New England today but not much relief was reported in other parts of the dry belt from the Southern Plains to New York State.

Heavy rains along the edges of hurricane Ginny splashed southeastern New England Tuesday as the storm moved into Nova Scotia. Moderate to heavy snow fell in central and northern Maine, with 13 inches in Greenville and nearly a foot in Houlton and Caribou. Snow flurries fell throughout New England, including Boston. More than 2½ inches of rain doused Nantucket, Mass.

Tuesday's rain belt extended along the Atlantic Coast from South Carolina into New England. Light rain dampened scattered sections in the Great Lakes region and southeastward to the Appalachians, but amounts were too light to break the prolonged dry spell.

Snow flurries flecked the area of Bluefield, straddling the Virginia-West Virginia line.

AP Polls Missourians

County GOP Chairmen Favor Barry

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — An overwhelming majority of of Republican county chairmen in Missouri who replied to an Associated Press poll say Sen. Barry Goldwater is leading the pack for the Republican presidential nomination.

Most of them predict the Arizona conservative will win the nomination at the national convention in San Francisco next summer.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Milton Eisenhower, the former president's brother, got only one or two votes.

Three predicted a dark horse or a compromise candidate will emerge if Goldwater and Rockefeller wear each other out at the convention.

The Associated Press sent questionnaires to all GOP chairmen in the 114 counties and the City of St. Louis. They were asked two questions:

(1) Who is the strongest potential GOP candidate against Kennedy on the basis of present conditions? (2) Whom do you think the Republican party will nominate in 1964? They were invited to give their reasons.

Russian, American Held; Two Russians Released

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—FBI agents have capped seven months of around-the-clock work with the arrests of an American electronics engineer, cleared to handle top secret material, and a Russian chauffeur on espionage charges.

They were arrested Tuesday night after a rendezvous near an old stone railroad station in Englewood.

Two Russian diplomats serving with the Soviet mission to the United Nations in New York City also were apprehended by the FBI but they were released because of their diplomatic immunity.

Seized in the Russians' car were a brief case that contained information about a secret Air Force contract and a tiny document camera designed to operate from the car's cigarette lighter.

The accused spies, charged early today with "delivering to a foreign government information relating to the national defense of the United States," are John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City.

Butenko, a bachelor of Russian parentage, is a $14,700-a-year control administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus.

Ivanov, married and father of a 6-year-old daughter, was a chauffeur for AMTORG, a Soviet government-sponsored agency that handles U.S.-Russian trade relations. He came to this country in March 1962.

Traffic Lights Are Re-Timed

Timing of amber traffic lights on Broadway was reset Oct. 23, following a question asked by Al Allgaier at an Optimist Club meeting at which C. E. Klamm, district engineer, Missouri State Highway Commission, Kansas City, was the speaker.

In a letter dated Oct. 24 to Allgaier, Klamm stated:

"During my talk before the Optimist Club in Sedalia last Tuesday, you and another gentleman asked if I would check the timing of the amber lights at the intersection of Route 50 and Grand, and Route 50 and Engineer, as you felt the time of this phase was too short."

"These signals were checked and readjusted yesterday (Oct. 23). We also checked and reset the amber timing for the traffic signal at Route 50 and Massachusetts and Route 50 and 65. On all of the signals, the time of the amber light was increased from 50 to 100 %."

Rescuers Near Three Trapped Men

Halt Operations To Prepare For Critical Phase

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) —Rescuers drilled to within 62 feet of three miners trapped in an underwater air bubble before halting operations early today to prepare for the most critical phase of the rescue.

If all goes well, the three are expected to be freed by late Thursday — ending a weeklong entombment 259 feet below the ground in a iron mine that was flooded when a nearby dam broke.

Eighty-six miners escaped, but 40 others are unaccounted for and are believed drowned.

Rescuers planned to resume drilling tonight, after spending most of the day reinforcing two rescue shafts with cement and steel pipes and constructing special air locks to make sure there is no sudden drop of pressure in the air pocket when the rigs reach the men.

The men are in a dead-end gallery, about the size of a four-room apartment. The pressure in the gallery is more than double that of the normal atmosphere. A sudden drop in the pressure would allow water to flood the air pocket and drown the men.

Once a break through is achieved, a mine foreman and a doctor will be lowered in a bomb-shaped rescue capsule.

Mrs. H. H. Smith explained to Banning she had called the police because she noticed a pungent odor in the neighborhood. The officer shook his head sheepishly and said:

"I've got a cold and can't smell a thing!"

Delving Into Affairs Of Bob Baker

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators delving into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker are working behind a barrier of secrecy they say is essential in the early stages of the investigation.

Baker, the one-time page boy who achieved wealth and power as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, resigned under fire Oct. 7.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said it was necessary to take exploratory testimony behind closed doors to avoid hurting innocent persons because of association with the inquiry.

But Jordan said the investigation at "some point" would be opened to the public, with Baker as a witness.

The next closed session of the Rules Committee is scheduled Friday but procedural matters are scheduled rather than the hearing of testimony.

The committee's task is to determine whether Baker or any other Senate employee has been involved in conflicts of interest between official duties and personal business affairs.

The West German press has quoted the woman, Ellen Rometsch, 27, as denying any intimacies with men other than her husband, Rolf, a West German army sergeant from whom she is now estranged.

The West German government has said Rometsch was called home last August from a post at its embassy here because of reports concerning his wife's conduct.

Polls Visit Emphasized By Speaker

Even if 90 per cent of Sedalia people are for the Sewer Bond Issue, it won't do any good, unless they go and vote, Jim Denny told the Sedalia Optimist Club at its regular noon meeting Tuesday at Bothwell Hotel.

Denny told the club of the various points of the Sewer Bond program and emphasized going to the polls and voting. He said he believed most of the people of Sedalia were favorable to the issue, but two affirmative votes must be received for each negative vote cast.

It was also brought out during the question period which followed Denny's talk, that should the total amount not be needed, there was no way for the money to be spent for any other purpose.

The meeting was presided over by President Ed Mitchell. Wray Schroeder gave the invocation while Joe Forsee led the singing with Lillian Fox at the piano.

The president read a letter from Carl Klamm, district engineer, who spoke to the Optimist Club last Tuesday, that changes suggested by club members in the timing of amber traffic lights at specified points on Broadway had been enacted.

A letter also read from Soccer Commissioner Paul Klover commending the efforts of the club and especially Dr. Russell Drenon for the work done in the soccer program this fall. Presently more than 250 boys are playing soccer.

The club was advised by Lee Deason that the Christmas tree advance sale tickets would be available this weekend. The lot will be at Warren and Broadway as in previous years.

Body Share Of Authority For Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A big majority of the Vatican Eccumenical Council voted today in favor of a declaration that the Roman Catholic Church's bishops as a body share in the Pope's authority.

The vote was intended only as a guide to further council consideration and was not binding. But it was greater than the two-thirds majority needed in any formal ballot to turn such a statement — with its implications for Christian unity efforts — into a council decree.

The council voted 1,808-336 that a theological schema on the nature of the Church should state that "the body or college of bishops in its evangelizing, sanctifying and caring for its flock is the successor of the college of apostles, and that as a body, in union with its head, the Roman pontiff, and never without him, enjoys full and supreme power over the universal Church."

By a vote of 1,717-408, the prelates also approved the insertion into the schema of a statement that "this (episcopal) power belongs to the college, in union with its head, by divine right."

In another test vote a proposal to reconstitute the Church rank of permanent deacon was approved 1,588-525. However, no stand was taken on whether the deacons could be married.

The council approved insertion in the theological schema "De Ecclesia" the statement that "it is opportune to restore the diaconate as a distinct and permanent rank of the sacred ministry in accordance with (the desires of) various regions."

Each of the propositions was approved by such a large number of prelates that adoption is assured once formal balloting starts. That may not be until the council's next session next year.

By overwhelming votes, the council approved a document that eventually will allow the use of native music forms for Roman Catholic services in such places as Africa and Asia.

Ex-Convict Says He Killed Mrs. Turner

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A youthful ex-convict has admitted killing Mrs. Fred Turner, wife of a wealthy oilman and racehorse owner. She was bludgeoned Tuesday during a burglary attempt in the family's palatial home.

Police said James L. Marion, 22, a Midland Negro, was charged with murder and jailed. He told newsmen Tuesday night: "I don't want to talk."

Mrs. Turner, 66, was so badly beaten about the face that it was first thought she had been shot.

Marion fled after slugging a daughter of the slain woman. Officers pulled him from an attic hiding place in a house two blocks distant a bit later and he admitted the killing.

Marion finished serving a state prison sentence for burglary last June.

Relatives discovered Mrs. Turner's body shortly after 7:30 a.m. Although a wall safe in a closet was open and empty, topsyturvy drawers in her dressing room still contained a fortune in diamonds she had battled to save.

A brother-in-law, Uel Stephens of Fort Worth, estimated the assorted diamond brooches, pins, rings, necklaces and watches were worth $500,000.

Mrs. Turner was alone in the house. Her husband was at Las Vegas, N.M., where he has extensive ranching interests. He quickly flew home.

Marion told questioners he gathered loot for several hours before discovering there was anyone in the darkened house.

He said that after knocking a hole in Mrs. Turner's bedroom door "I heard somebody say 'I'm going to shoot you.'"

"A shot was fired," he said, "and I saw her standing on the balcony."

Marion seized the gun and Mrs. Turner sat in the room, he continued, while he searched various drawers.

He laid down the pistol, Mrs. Turner grabbed it and again he wrested it from her, the prisoner related, adding:

"That was when I hit her the first time. . . she got up again and got something in her hand. It was a cane or something. I took it away from her and hit her two more times with her gun."

She crumpled to the floor.

of themselves and the state as a by-product of taking part in the program, the speaker said. Cities will be rated on a five-star basis. The only cost will be for purchase of two signs, proclaiming Sedalia is a participant and displaying its star rating.

Facets of the community will be evaluated by local citizens and re-evaluated by impartial people from outside the community.

Chairmen of divisions who will select evaluating committees locally are: Dr. Tom Norris, education; Miss Opal O'Brian, family living; Ed Mitchell, finance; Bill Schien and H. W. Harris, industrial development, who have completed their survey; George Ray, recreation and culture; Alvin Cole, senior citizens; Bill Ward, transportation and communications; Owen Fox, youth.

Other committee chairmen will be chosen. Citizen and shopper attitude surveys are to be made. Storey said motivation for the program should come from citizens.

Also attending the meeting were: Mrs. Vivian Warren, Miss Marjorie Garanson and news media representatives.

King Hassan, Ben Bella, In Meeting

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — After a day of haggling, King Hassan II of Morocco and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria met today with mediators trying to end the border conflict between the two nations.

The meeting lasted 45 minutes. There was no immediate indication of progress. But the fact that the leaders met face to face for the first time since fighting broke out raised hope for a compromise settlement.

A Moroccan source said, however, that a luncheon Hassan and Ben Bella had been scheduled to attend with the negotiators was called off. Each delegation was eating by itself, the source said.

Ben Bella and Hassan sat down at a conference table in the Mali presidential palace with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. Since the arrival of Ben Bella and Hassan Tuesday, Selassie and Keita had been working to bring them together.

Selassie reportedly proposed that an international force from African nations patrol a demilitarized zone to be established in the disputed border area in the Sahara Desert.

Ann Landers

Answers Problems Your

Dear Ann Landers: The best way I know to get a problem before the public is to write to Ann Landers. I hope you'll print my letter and perhaps spare other couples the grief my daughter and son-in-law are now going through.

After seven childless years our daughter and son-in-law became discouraged and decided to adopt. They were interviewed by three agencies and told to "be patient." Their patience wore thin after two years so my daughter was understandably receptive to the suggestion of a friend who had gotten two gray-market babies and was delighted with them.

My daughter's husband agreed to go the gray-market route and two months later they received a beautiful little girl. She was the light of their lives for ten glorious months.

Last May the baby's natural mother turned up at their front door and demanded her child. She claimed she was irrational when she agreed to sell her baby to "that crook of a lawyer." I'll skip the details, but my daughter and son-in-law were taken into court and they lost.

The nursery door is now locked and theirs is the saddest home I have ever seen. They are paying dearly for their mistake. Please print this, Ann—SHATTERED GRANDMOTHER

Dear Grandmother: Yours is not the first such letter that has appeared in this column, but it is worth repeating. Thank you for writing. And again let's hope this serves as a deterrent to childless couples who are tempted to take a short cut.

Dear Ann: What's the matter with me? I go from one miserable affair to another. I'll tell you my story briefly and maybe you can help.

I quit school at 16 to marry a foreigner who was 33. My mother thought he had money. She was right—but I couldn't get my hands on it. The marriage lasted six months.

I went with another man who fooled me for two years before I learned he was married and had four kids. The next fellow was married but said his divorce would be coming through "any day." I got disgusted after 15 months and left town to go live with my cousin and her husband.

Her husband and I fell in love. My cousin found out about it and threw me out of the house. Now I'm back in this miserable town and my reputation is mud.

Why am I so loused up? Please help me.—HARD LUCK LIZ.

Dear Liz: It's not luck that's hard—it's your head.

Move to a city where no one knows you. Resolve to go with only respectable people. Join church groups and clubs where decent people meet. Stay out of bars and joints. Replace that macaroni in your spine with sterner stuff. And stop looking for short cuts to Paradise.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of ours who is in the funeral business has a habit which annoys me terribly. If you tell me he is right I will apologize to him.

When this friend introduces a clergyman he invariably says, "I would like you to know Dr. Quentin Collingswood, a Doctor of Divinity." This sounds so pompous that my blood pressure takes a leap every time I hear it. What do you think about this type of introduction? —ANTI-POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE.

Dear Anti-Pomp: I would not say your friend is wrong, but he is surely using a great many superfluous words. It would be simpler to say, "This is the Rev. Quentin Collingswood."

One does not introduce a dentist as "Dr. Parnsworth, Doctor of Dentistry," or "Dr. Roseheim, Doctor of Philosophy"—not that it would be incorrect, but because it would be awkward.

Hearing on Milk Price Proposal Now Adjourned

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A hearing on a proposed price increase to dairy farmers who produce Class I milk was adjourned Tuesday night after testimony from opponents.

The record of the hearing before a federal examiner, Benjamin M. Holstein, goes to the Department of Agriculture in Washington for a decision. The examiner makes no recommendation.

Dairy farmers in six federal milk marketing areas are seeking an increase of 25 cents a hundred pounds to offset higher production costs, blamed on the drought.

One of the questions debated was whether a price increase is needed to guarantee ample supplies of milk.

Testimony that milk supplies have remained adequate was given by Frank Bazin, manager for Beatrice Foods at Parsons, Kan.; Robert Winton of Chicago, representing Beatrice Foods in the St. Joseph, Mo., area; and B. G. Nichols of Raytown, Mo., representing Foremost Dairies in Kansas City, Topeka, Springfield, Mo. and Joplin.

E. J. Jackson, manager of a dairy plant at Junction City, Kan., which has a military contract to fulfill, said a price increase would be extremely costly to his company because its contract has nine months to run.

44 Block Chase Through City Led by Boy, 14

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 14-year-old boy led police on a high-speed chase for 44 blocks through downtown Kansas City Tuesday night.

At least 11 police vehicles — cruisers, patrol wagons and motor cycles — were chasing the boy. They finally caught him after he had struck two automobiles waiting for a stoplight.

"He hit the cars at 31st and Gillham," said Patrolman Marvin Morlin.

"At every corner and every stoplight and stop sign he went through, well, I just held my breath."

The car was struck by one of two bullets fired. In the front seat was a large cluster of keys and boxes of cosmetics were found in the trunk.

The boy said he borrowed the car from his grandfather. The youngster was not identified because of his age.

Menjou Dies Tuesday In Beverly Hills

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Adolph Menjou, an elegant dresser who mourned the fading popularity of spats and knickers, was himself mourned by Hollywood today.

The veteran actor, whose career spanned more than 50 years and over 200 films, died of chronic hepatitis Tuesday at his Beverly Hills home. He was 73.

Menjou's third wife, the former Verree Teasdale, and their adopted son, Peter, 27, were at his side.

The actor had been in ill health nine months, his son said.

Menjou, born in Pittsburgh, Pa., was filmdom's epitome of the European gentleman.

His clipped mustache and precise speech, along with his dapper clothes gave him the image. He said it was deliberate.

Menjou attended Cornell University where he wrote, produced and directed college theatricals.

Before World War I, he made screen love to such stars as Marguerite Clark and Norma Talmadge.

After the war, Menjou followed the film industry to California. He hit his stride in 1923, appearing in "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks, "The Sheik," with Rudolph Valentino, and "Woman of Paris," with Charlie Chaplin.

From 1924 to 1929, he earned a reported $7,000 a week. He signed a contract with MGM in 1927 for the same figure, but declined afterward to sign exclusive contracts and remained a free lance actor for the rest of his career.

In 1953-54, Menjou starred as narrator of a television series, "My Favorite Story."

Some Series Record Own Blood Lines

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Some television series, like thoroughbred horses and royal families, have recorded blood lines. Others just grow.

Some are direct descendants of popular books—"Perry Mason" and "The Virginian."

Others, including "Dr. Kildare," trace their ancestry to old movies.

"The Defenders" emerged from a script, "The Defender," which with one lawyer, was a single show in a dramatic anthology several seasons back.

"Petticoat Junction" is a child of "The Beverly Hillbillies," but somehow has lost all family resemblance.

The Danny Thomas Show may be the most prolific television show. Close and distant relatives include The Dick Van Dyke Show, The Joey Bishop Show, The Bill Dana Show and The Andy Griffith Show.

By next season The Danny Thomas show may become a TV patriarch—with a third generation to its credit.

The Andy Griffith Show added last season as a country-style character who worked out so well that singer-turned actor Jim Nabors became a regular called Gomer Pyle. This season Gomer is around even more.

Jim had never acted before he joined the Griffith show. He had tried out for the part of nephew Jethro in "Beverly Hillbillies" and had been turned down on the grounds he wasn't handsome enough.

Television's top executives Tuesday were studying and worrying over the new and important national Nielsen ratings, estimates of the size of audiences for the various network shows during the first two weeks of October. The fate of from eight to a dozen shows may hang on the figures and the ones released two weeks from now.

The Nielsen list of the most popular shows contained few surprises. "Beverly Hillbillies"

Welles Holds No Regrets For Program

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON (AP)—Orson Welles choked back a chuckle and said he has not the slightest regret for his Martian invasion radio drama that panicked Americans 25 years ago tonight.

"Looking back I wouldn't change a thing," the actor, now 48, told an interviewer.

Six million Americans heard Welles' broadcast of "The War of the Worlds" on Oct. 30, 1938 and one million were disturbed, researchers found.

It began at 8 p.m. on the CBS Sunday night "Mercury Theater of the Air." Interspersing H.G. Wells' 40-year-old fantasy with realistically styled news bulletins, the Mercury players created this scene:

Flaming objects landed in New Jersey. "Things" emerged. As tall as skyscrapers, they waded the Hudson River to destroy New York. A mysterious Martian ray dealt instant death.

With Nazi Germany nibbling at the Sudetenland and America jangled by European war nerves, newspapers and radio stations were flooded by calls from frightened listeners.

A Pittsburgh man found his wife in the bathroom, hysterically grasping a bottle of poison and crying. "I'd rather die this way."

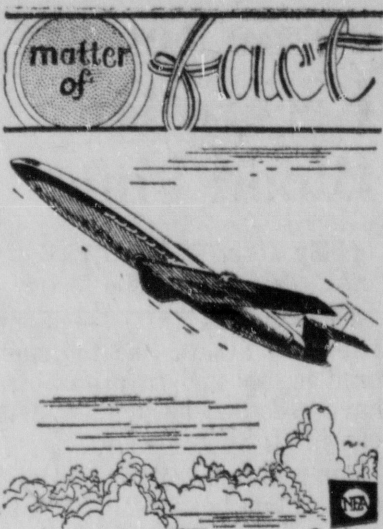

A San Francisco man called police, volunteering to fight "this awful thing."

Toward the end of the hour-long drama, the Martians were destroyed by some bacteriological reaction.

Recalling the circumstances of the broadcast, "Sure I had a pretty good idea it would touch off a wave of jitters, but I still went ahead."

"I just thought it was time to demonstrate that everything said on radio isn't necessarily true. The radio had been speaking ex cathedra (with authority) on every subject under the sun and I thought it needed sending up a bit."

Holding Actions Slated by NFO During Winter

TOPEKA (AP)—Holding actions are planned by the National Farmers Organization on most farm commodities in a 20-state area this winter, Oren Lee Staley, NFO president, said Tuesday.

Staley, from Rea, Mo., addressed the first convention of the Kansas branch of the NFO. In holding actions farmers withhold products from market in an effort to force processors into agreements to pay the higher prices.

Staley said action is definitely planned on meat animals and milk. Action on other commodities will depend on the results of negotiations with processors, he said.

No Dangers Seen From Price Hikes

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Housewives, relax—for the time being anyway.

The government's economists see no danger that the autumn outbreak of price boosts in a dozen industries will unbalance the family budget.

Increases on items ranging from steel and aluminum to carpets and black pepper—was followed—perhaps by coincidence—by revival of a New York federal grand jury probe into steel-pricing policies.

Coincidental or not, that Justice Department move underscored President Kennedy's warning that Uncle Sam is "watching with concern" any price trend that might start an inflationary spiral.

Kennedy's Consumer Advisory Council, set up last year to give consumers a lobby in Washington, announced a special study of recent increases in steel, electrical equipment, aluminum and chemicals.

The council said it wants to find out whether the increases "appear to be justified from the consumer point of view."

Arnold E. Chase, price chief for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, told an interviewer: "The wholesale price index for October may show a decline instead of an increase."

The increases on several steel products, even if passed all along the line to consumers, will be like those of last spring, Chase predicted: a few dollars on a car or tractor, a few dimes on a washer or refrigerator, but no measurable impact on the over-all cost of living.

'Nation Building and UN' Is Women's World Theme

Two decades of efforts for a more secure peace will be marked by women across the land on World Community Day, Friday, Nov. 1.

United Church Women of Sedalia are invited to attend the observance and take part in launching of a united program under the theme, "Nation Building and the United Nations."

For the past twenty years, church women have studied the problems of peace, believing that the mission of the church and world affairs are interdependent and interlocking. They have worked together across racial and denominational lines to meet human need, and have continually tried to express the faith that lasting peace can be established with freedom and justice. World

Community Day was founded by United Church Women in 1943 in the midst of war to speed building of a lasting peace. The observance is held annually on the first Friday in November in hundreds of communities across the nation.

Elder Arnold VanDenBosch, state missionary of Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, will address the women at a worship service at 1:30 p. m. at Free Will Baptist Church, 207 East Pettis.

Others taking part will be Mrs. T. E. Gasperson, president of Sedalia United Church Women; Mrs. Roe Vincent, Mrs. Earl Crawford, Mrs. J. Y. Jackson and Mrs. Ernest Liebel. Ushers will be from the host church. Mrs. M. O. Stevens will be in charge of music.

Basic to this year's study on peace is the book, "Nation Building: A Channel to Peace," written by Esther W. Hymer, director of Christian World Relations for United Church Women and its official observer at the United Nations. In her book, Mrs. Hymer states, "The existence of the United Nations during the world-wide revolt against colonialism has prevented the problems which arise from independence from sparking a world conflict. Nation Building is the challenging task of this decade if lasting peace is to be attained."

One of the peace jobs being undertaken by UCW this year is assembling of friendship packets for children in church institutions and areas of acute human need. Layettes are being sent through Church World Service and will be distributed by women of the churches. Cotton yardage, boys' T-shirts and shorts are also being collected.

Each year a special service of worship and dedication is prepared for the day. Author of the 1963 service is Mrs. Gladys Avery Tillett of Charlotte, N. C. Mrs. Tillett is the United States delegate on the U. N. Commission on the Status of Women and she has worked with United Church Women over a period of years.

National chairman of World Community Day is Mrs. George B. Marin of Summit, N. J. United Church Women, a general department of National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA, is serving some 12 million Protestant and Orthodox church women in the United States.

The offering received on the World Community Day this year will be used for an in-service training program for church women from this country and from some of the newly-independent countries. Believing that trained leadership is a primary step in building toward peace in this country and in nations in the developing areas, United Church Women will initiate this program which will take place during the summer of 1964 at the new Church Center for the United Nations in New York.

Women from overseas will go from their two-week training program to attend the Tenth National Assembly of United Church Women in Kansas City, Oct. 5-9 in 1964.

Other work which will receive assistance from the offering is continuing support of refugee work of the World Council of

The local committee on World Community Day includes Mrs. Garner O'Dell, Mrs. Virgil Corson, Mrs. Earl Crawford, Mrs. J. E. Gillum, Mrs. A. W. Hall, Mrs. Roe Vincent and Mrs. T. E. Gasperson.

Citizens to Vote On a Name Change

LIVITTOWN, N. J. — They vote on a touchy subject here Tuesday—the name of the town.

Shall it remain the third Levittown in the nation, or revert to its original name of Willingboro, which dates back to 1683?

The campaign has been fought in the courts, on the streets and in the Levittown Life, a weekly newspaper.

The editor of the paper, Stanley Goldstein, 39, said the movement to restore the name to Willingboro started about a year ago as people became dissatisfied with being another Levittown.

They complained that their mail sometimes went to Levittown, N.Y., or Levittown, Pa., finally reaching them a week later.

Give Up Searching For a Missing Tug

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — After nine days of fruitless search in the Atlantic for the missing tug Meitowax, the Coast Guard ended its hunt Tuesday.

The tug disappeared between New York and Charleston, S.C. She was last heard from Oct. 20 when she radioed her position as 50 miles off Norfolk, Va., sailing southward to the area where hurricane Ginny was born off the Carolina coast.

The 105-foot Meitowax carried a crew of four.

Grassroots Racial Look Taken In the Deep South

EDITOR'S NOTE — Desegregation efforts in the South had concentrated mostly on larger urban centers until last summer when racial unrest spread into smaller towns, the rural areas—the grassroots. Don McKee, Associated Press staff writer, visited three small Southern towns facing civil rights drives. This is the first in a series on what he found at the grassroots level.

By DON MCKEE
CLINTON, La. (AP) — Wide-brimmed. Western-style hat clamped tight on his head, the judge strode toward the ancient courthouse, a landmark of 1838 vintage.

Ghana Bans Orwell Book, Animal Farms

By DENNIS NEELD
ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—George Orwell's "Animal Farm," a bitter allegory on totalitarianism, has been banned from Ghana's secondary schools by government decree.

Too many teachers were drawing a parallel between Orwell's fictional regime of the pigs and that of President Kwame Nkrumah and his Convention People's party. Ghana's press is censored and controlled.

In private, civil servants and the professional classes express mounting dissatisfaction with Nkrumah and his government. Students at Ghana's two universities are in the vanguard of these demanding greater freedom of expression.

"Whisper a word of criticism in the wrong place and you're out of a job," complained one senior ministry official.

Nkrumah's Ghana abounds with trappings markedly similar to those of communism.

His party and the government are regarded as one and the same. The Ghana Young Pioneers follows a Soviet pattern. The trade union movement is a carbon copy of the Soviet Union's. Strikes are illegal. There are 105 state farms. Government is in the building, furniture, and many other businesses. Innumerable Communist bloc technicians have been assigned to the country.

But there is another side. In Nkrumah's grand design there is a place for private as well as state enterprise and recent legislation encourages foreign investment.

Six years of independence have brought progress unmatched elsewhere in Africa in many fields. Tribalism has been largely eliminated. Ghana spends more on education in relation to national income than any other country in the world. Roads are the best in West Africa.

Nkrumah seeks to turn Ghana into the nonaligned showpiece of Africa. He thinks he can do it with his homespun brand of socialism, and by walking a political tightrope between West and East.

The 54-year-old president is a professed Marxist. He is also a shrewd and practical politician, ambitious and fiercely independent. Westerners here are convinced he never would willingly become the puppet of Moscow.

For Rarich and about one-third of Clinton's 1,600 population, there was reason to worry. Negroes, comprising the other two-thirds of the population, had gone to the streets with their grievances for the first time.

Clinton, little more than a cluster of stores around the old courthouse, is typical of the Southern grassroots. Located in a cattle farming area of south Louisiana, it is only 25 miles south of the Mississippi line.

Change in racial customs is inconceivable to a large majority of the white minority which controls the economy and the government—as in other Southern towns.

A militant Negro group, jolting the town awake to racial issues, raised the threat of change that would leave no small town immune.

Perplexity and resentment prevail among the white residents; Negro spokesmen vow to keep up their drive, apparently fashion

CHATTER
by
Lucy Lockett

Just as sure as we have green apples in the Spring . . . if you keep clothes long enough, they will come back in style. Fashion cycles seem to revive themselves at least every 20 years.

The sheath dress, which has been in and out with and without a belt since the early 20's, closely resembles the hobble skirts of 60 years ago. Knee-length skirts were popular in the flapper days, much to the disgust of older people. The great Depression seemed to bring down the length of skirts right along with the stock market. Recently both stocks and skirts have been rising.

Galoshes with buckles worn flapping were quite the thing 40 years ago. We are wearing cute little boots today. The "whimsies" that protect the hair are somewhat like the motoring veils worn in the early auto days. Remember the rats in your hair? Today we have the bee-hive effect which is achieved by ruffing in the same way.

Fashion is unpredictable, but there are some things with which "girl watchers" of today say they will not put up with . . . shingled hair, hoop skirts, bustles, cover up bathing suits and the flat-look . . . let's hope!

An R & K Original dress will stay in style for years to come. We have just received the first of their Holiday line, and honestly, we had such a time trying to decide which ones to describe.

A storm of white has descended, like snow, and we thought you might like to know about a few of them. A pebbly double-knit shift dress, convertible collar, beautiful paisley scarf, contour belt to be placed anywhere you like, so smart for only $25.95! A fine weave white knit with jewelry neckline, short sleeves edged with tiny colored bugle beads, tie-belt, slim and uncluttered looking . . . $29.95. A white jersey jacket costume, basic dress, Chanel type jacket, perfect for day into evening wear, both white and pastel shades . . . $29.95.

There are many others, just asking to be seen . . . all at Locketts in the center of Sedalia.

triggered by a voter purge of six years ago.

The voter rolls of East Feliciana Parish, of which Clinton is the governmental seat, were purged after Henry Earl Palmer became the parish registrar.

At that time there were about 1,500 Negro voters among the 4,100 persons on the parish's poll list. Palmer said that since the purge, 2,600 white persons and 119 Negroes have re-registered.

"We don't discriminate," said Palmer, who operates a dairy,

"I enforce the law to the letter. I don't care if a thousand register if they pass the test."

Sheriff Arch V. Doughty said that before Palmer took office unqualified Negroes were registered.

"I doubt if some of them could even read," said Doughty.

Negro spokesmen protest that discrimination keeps them off the voter list. William Brown, 19, a college student from Tucson, Ariz., and a volunteer worker for the Congress of Racial Equality, said he believed some points in the test are administered illegally to Negroes.

Brown and other CORE workers began holding mass meetings in August to push voter registration. Rarich issued a restraining order against demonstrations.

The Negro unrest spilled into the streets Oct. 12-13 when pickets walked in front of four stores. The pickets were arrested.

"Our picketing," said Brown, "is aimed at voter registration—at some communication other than the courtroom."

But, as in similar situations, the Negro drive aimed at one issue "then spread over other areas of discontent. With a high unemployment rate, Negroes want better jobs; they want racial talks."

"The variety store has a Negro clerk," said Brown. "He serves the customer, then the white manager rings up the sale. Negroes aren't allowed to use the cash register."

A Negro boycott has hurt business at several stores.

A merchant, I. G. McKnight, said: "At this stage, I'm not going to be surprised at what happens."

What about the outcome? What can the Negroes hope to gain?

"There's no chance of changing our customs," said McKnight.

But Emmett Collins, Negro clerk in a drugstore and the father of the local CORE chapter leader, said most of the Negroes support the drive in Clinton.

"I don't think they'll stop," Collins said.

Man's Life Is Measured By a Fadeless Guidebook

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Every man's life is measured by his memories. They are his mental Baedeker, the fadeless guidebook of the mind. Memories also are the lasting fingerprints of the soul. No two people, no matter how deeply shared their lives, ever have quite the same set. We are born individual, and as we age our memories accent that individuality. But they also help keep us mutual. And you've passed a lot of milestones yourself if you can remember when—Dad first let you drink from the nozzle of the garden hose as he watered the lawn—and it had the most wonderful flavor in the world. White collar workers earned more than blue collar workers.

The wealthiest guy in the block was the kid with the most marbles. The worst fate that could befall you was to be picked last when the gang was choosing up sides to play a game of scrub football. Voters would listen patiently for two hours in the hot sun while a politician orated on the benefits of the protective tariff. When you wanted to plant a garden, you wrote to your congressman and asked for free seeds. Girls thought curls were a blessing and freckles a disaster. Only farm girls had a tan; mothers of city girls never let their daughters venture out bareheaded in the summer for fear this would ruin their complexion. Every young lady could play a musical instrument—even if it was only the tambourine. You could tell how cold it was in winter by how far the frozen cream stuck out of the bottle the milkman left at the front door. Only rich families had oranges except at Christmas—or when one of the children had to take castor oil. A specialist was a doctor who charged $3 for an office visit. Nothing in a five-and-ten store cost more than a dime. Democrat Class Ads Get Results!

'The City of Dams' Title May Be Tag for Atchison

By JOHN BUCKLEY
The Atchison Globe
For The Associated Press
ATCHISON, Kan. (AP)—This northeast Kansas community may become known as "The City of Dams."

By this time next year, Atchison will be surrounded by 26 retention dams costing $2.8 million.

The city and the White Clay, Brewery, Whiskey Creeks Watershed District No. 26 are paying $330,000 of the cost, and the federal government the remainder.

On July 11 and July 30, 1958, the business district of Atchison was struck by floods doing property damage of $4.5 million. The official weather gauge measured 5.07 inches of rain on July 11, when the most damage was done, but there were unofficial readings of 6 to 8 inches.

Three persons drowned in the flood that resulted as water poured down from the hills into branches of White Clay Creek and into the city.

The rainfall that flooded Atchison in 1958 fell on 9,600 acres of land in and around the city. When the 26 dams are completed, the runoff on 64 per cent of these 9,600 acres will be impounded.

Ten of the dams are completed. Four are under construction.

They were designed by engineers of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. Gen. A. D. Warnock, U.S. Army retired, who is watershed agent and contracting officer on the dams for Atchison, has worked on the project since two days after the July 30, 1958, flood.

A lake with a permanent water pool of 40 acres, created by dam No. 23, will be the largest single body of water created. It has been named Warnock Lake by the watershed board in honor of the general.

"I think the recreational possibilities of the 26 lakes are great," Warnock said. "All will be stocked by the Fish and Wildlife Service with bass, bluegill and channel catfish. The watershed board has authorized three duckblinds on Warnock Lake."

Four of the dams will impound lakes of 15 to 18 acres. The others will be smaller. Dams 1 to 9 are owned by the city, with six of the lakes partly inside the north city limits. Dams 10 to 16 are on privately owned property with the city acquiring easements to construct, operate and maintain the facilities.

The public owns the shoreline of Warnock Lake except for a small area on the west side.

"The remainder of the dams will probably be built on an easement basis," Warnock said.

Some landowners have donated easements and will receive minor tax abatements for 20 years.

Where the dams are on private property, the public has no rights. Landowners may charge for swimming, fishing or any other use of the lakes and may use the water for cattle or irrigation.

Victim of Robbers For the Sixth Time

KANSAS CITY (AP)—For the sixth time in six years, Mrs. Marie Ranfield, 60, was robbed. As usual, she put up a struggle.

Mrs. Ranfield operates an income tax and bookkeeping service and is an agent for American Express money orders.

She had blank money orders in an attache case Tuesday night when two Negroes in their early 20s reached into her car. She held on to the case but lost her billfold containing $15.

Mrs. Ranfield has been held up three times in her office and twice in grocery stores. She has lost $750 in all.

She says she always struggles with the robbers and will continue to do so.

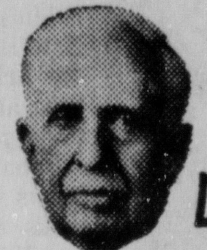

"I guess I'm a crazy nut," she said.

Pigeon Population Gets Gun Reprieve

NILES, Mich. (AP) — Niles' downtown pigeon population won't face a firing squad—it's been given a reprieve by Mayor Mowitt S. Drew.

A businessman had proposed lining up 125 marksmen on a Sunday morning, mostly along downtown rooftops, for a one-hour pigeon shoot.

Drew rejected the plan as too dangerous.

Forget Last Week

These Are the Choices
For Grid Games Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—They still manufacture pencils with erasers at the top so forget last week's selections—41 right, 14 wrong for 745—and recuperate with picks for the coming week. The season's figures are 226 correct with 79 misses for .741.

Here are the choices for the games ahead:

Texas over Southern Methodist: The SMU Mustangs have made great advances, especially on defense, but the Longhorns' Ford and Carlisle are more than they can handle.

Illinois over Purdue: The Purdue defense is stubborn but these Illini sophomores are a rugged lot when they play at home.

Louisiana State over Mississippi: The revamped LSU backfield came of age in the close struggle with Florida a week ago. The Rebels have had two weeks getting ready for this one.

Air Force over Army: The Cadets have the better record but they never have encountered a passing quarterback on a level with Terry Isaacson. Southern California over Washington: The Trojans' Four B's—Beathard, Brown, Bedsole and Bame—are functioning again although the Huskies' Junior Coffey may be the game's hero.

Cards Squeak
Past Sacred Heart Grems

The Lincoln Cardinals squeaked past the Sacred Heart Gremlins, 45-42, to capture the opening game of the season for both teams on the locals' court.

The Gremlins held the lead until the half when the score was tied 17-17. In the fourth quarter, the Cardinals edged Sacred Heart by seven points. Both teams had matched points again in the third period.

Dennis Gartner was the leading scorer and also the leading rebounder for Sacred Heart. He pushed in 14 points and grabbed 12 off the backboards for his team. Darrell Hansen led Lincoln's scoring with 16, followed by his twin Dwayne with 12.

The tables were turned in "B" team action as the Gremlins upset the Cardinals, 30-10.

Sacred Heart went ahead with their offense and held their fouls to a minimum. The Cardinals could not seem to find the basket.

Ron Kruse took scoring honors for Sacred Heart with nine points. He also took rebounding honors.

In the girls' volleyball contest, Sacred Heart's girls were ahead by a small margin when the Lincoln girls went ahead and kept the lead for the remainder of the game. The final score was 52-14 in Lincoln's favor.

Marilyn Drennon pushed 20 serves across the net for the Cardinals to take scoring honors for her team. Linda Robinson had four points for scoring honors for Sacred Heart.

Sacred Heart will meet Calhoun, Nov. 5, on the opponents' court in a non-conference contest. Game time is 7 p.m.

Score by quarters:
Sacred Heart 10 7 11 14-42
Lincoln 5 12 11 17-45

Individual scoring: Sacred Heart—Chuck Hogan, 10; Cecil Gerke, 3; Everett Korchner, 4; Harold Straka, 8; Dennis Gartner, 14; Bernie Bahner, 3. Lincoln—Raymond Mueller, 8; David Roberts, 7; Don Strathman, 2; Dwayne Hansen, 12; Darrell Hansen, 16.

St. Louis Hawks
Pull Off a Feat
Against Knicks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks pulled off a Frank Merriwell feat with 31 seconds left to play and beat the New York Knicks in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night.

Behind 95-89 the Hawks stole a page from the accomplishments of the fictional sports hero, tied the score at 95-95 in regulation time and went on for a 109-103 overtime victory.

The Cincinnati Royals whipped the San Francisco Warriors 108-101 in the other scheduled game.

Mike Farmer's basket started the heroics for St. Louis in the game at New York. John Barnhill followed with a one-hander from 25 feet out, then intercepted a pass from Tom Gola and scored the tying basket. Barnhill followed up with four points as the Hawks took a 105-96 lead in the overtime en route to their third straight victory.

At San Francisco, Cincinnati led all the way in defeating the Warriors. Oscar Robertson led the Royals with 28 points while Wilt Chamberlain topped the Warriors with 32 points.

Navy over Notre Dame: A year ago these two teams played in a young hurricane. This season's hurricane is Roger Staubach.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: The running of Sherm Lewis and Dewey Lincoln to offset the passing of Harold Brandt.

Princeton over Brown: This is one of the best Princeton teams in recent years.

Auburn over Florida: In this game the home field is the decisive factor.

Ohio State over Iowa: The Buckeyes are stronger and more plentiful.

Syracuse over Pittsburgh: The Panthers haven't recovered from the embarrassment they suffered against Navy last week.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Could be lopsided.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Joe Namath gives the Crimson Tide an edge.

Nebraska over Missouri: The Tiger offense sputters and the Huskers have Dennis Clardige at the controls.

North Carolina State over Virginia: With relative ease.

Corrigan In Good Shape
For SaturdayBy JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Eight's top passer, Larry Corrigan of Kansas State, is a gritty 185-pound senior who didn't know until two weeks before practice started last fall whether physicians would permit him to play football.

Corrigan led K-State to two straight victories over Indiana and Air Force opening the 1961 season as a sophomore. He dislocated two neck vertebrae in the Kansas game that fall. Doctors didn't give him the green light to play until Aug. 15 in 1962 and he feels this was one factor in his so-so season.

Corrigan heads into his last Kansas game at Lawrence Saturday with 499 yards on 48 out of 999 passes, three for touchdowns and only six intercepted. He often must throw under heavy pressure.

"I was really ready and anxious to go this fall," Corrigan said. "(Ralph) McFillen and (Doug) Dusenbury can really catch that ball. We're going to keep trying, and I think we'll upset someone."

McFillen, a bouncy 168-pound split end, is a close second in Big Eight pass receiving with 257 yards in 22 catches.

The Kansas-K-State game will match most of the Big Eight's individual offensive leaders. Gale Sayers of Kansas leads in rushing with 555 yards. Steve Renko, Kansas quarterback, is second in passing with 409 yards on 26 of 63. Renko leads in total offense with 630 yards and Corrigan is second with 571 run-pass yards.

Tom Vaughn, Iowa State's talented fullback, is a close second in rushing with 536 yards on 117 carries. Jim Grisham of Oklahoma ripped K-State for 152 yards and took third with 432 yards, playing one less game than the other leaders.

In rushing, Bill Harris of Colorado has 396 yards; Rudy Johnson 367 and Willie Ross 630, both of Nebraska; Monroe Phelps of Missouri 265; Larry Portis of Colorado 242; Renko 226; and Carl Reese, Missouri, 222.

Dick Limerick of Iowa State leads in pass receiving with 276 yards on 20 catches and in scoring with 38 points. Johnson has 37 points, Harris 36 and Sayers 32. K-State's Dusenbury leads in punting at 41.9.

Behind runner-up Renko in passing are Frank Cesarek, Colorado, 375 yards; Dennis Clardige, Nebraska, 345; and Gary Lane, Missouri 337. Third in total offense is Sayers at 564. Vaughn has 536, Lane 487 and Clardige 460.

Larry Elliott of Oklahoma State leads in punt returns with a 14.3-yard average for seven. Teammate Jeff Williams leads in kickoff returns with 27.3 for six.

Arrival Reflected In Team Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Johnson's arrival as a top flight quarterback is reflected in the team statistics of the National Football League which show the St. Louis Cardinals leading in both total offense and passing at the season's halfway mark.

The Cardinals also can move the ball on the ground with Bill Triplett and Joe Childress carrying the mail. The St. Louis rushing total of 1,016 yards is topped only by Cleveland and Green Bay.

Johnson's passes to Bobby Joe Conrad, Sonny Randle, Jackie Smith and Triplett are the big gainers in the St. Louis attack that has rolled to 2,744 yards, including 1,728 in the air.

Black Hawks
Threatening
A Runaway

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks are threatening to turn the National Hockey League race into a runaway.

Playing with a determination which they hope will offset last season's late collapse, the Hawks have lost only one of their first nine games and pulled into a six-point lead over Toronto and Montreal with an effortless 5-1 victory over Detroit Tuesday night.

A crowd of 13,987 came out to watch Gordie Howe, Detroit's big right wing, attempt to break the NHL scoring record of 544 goals he now shares with Maurice Richard.

Howe failed to score but the fans saw Ken Wharram, Chicago's little right wing, turn in his first major league hat trick. The only other three goal performance this season was scored by Chicago's Stan Mikita.

The Hawks have played five games at home, winning them all. On the road they have one victory, one loss and two ties. Coach Billy Reay has the club playing aggressive hockey and every man appears to be in top physical condition.

Despite having such stars as Bobby Hull and Mikita, the club is thriving on balance. Wharram and Ab McDonald are among the league's leading scorers with Mikita and Hull.

"Everybody is putting out and all the guys are working well," said Reay, who was named to replace Rudy Pilous after the Hawks flopped at the end of the 1962-63 campaign to finish second to Toronto.

"By February," said one Hawk player, "we'll be so far out in front nobody will be able to catch us."

Wharram was the center of attention after the Detroit victory as he went through the motions of explaining his three goals. He put the Hawks ahead with two quick goals within one minute midway in the first period.

Al MacNeil and Jack McKenzie boosted the lead to 4-0 before Wharram completed his hat trick in the third period. Wharram then went to the penalty box for tripping and Detroit's Norm Ullman spoiled Glenn Hall's shutout bid with a power play goal.

Otterville Team
Plays for First
In Tournament

Otterville's junior high basketball team assured itself of a trophy in the Jamestown Tournament Tuesday night roaring from behind to trip New Bloomfield, 36-35.

The young Eagles face Eugene tonight at 8 p.m. to decide first place in the tourney.

Otterville trailed throughout the game, but dumped in 16 points in the final quarter while holding New Bloomfield to five. New Bloomfield had led 13-6 at the first quarter, 21-12 at half-time and 30-20 at the end of the third period.

Ronnie Landreth pitched in 14 points to pace the Otterville attacks, but his effort was shaded by New Bloomfield's Stanley Shaffer who fired in 17.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Associated Press Back of the Week accepted the admiration of all today but didn't seem especially impressed with his performance.

Actually I haven't had a real outstanding ball game yet," said Russell Vollmer, the brilliant quarterback who engineered Memphis State's 17-10 football triumph over Mississippi State Saturday night.

But Vollmer's trim 6-foot, 190 pound form dominated the storybook game marked by madness and melodrama.

He ran back the opening kickoff 78 yards to set up Memphis State's first score. Later in the first quarter on another Tiger drive, he was knocked completely

Bert Wilder Is Lineman Of the Week

NEW YORK (AP)—It couldn't have been anything so mundane as "All right, boys. Let's go get 'em." But whatever Bert Wilder said before the opening kickoff and between halves of the Duke game at Raleigh last Saturday helped the North Carolina State tackle win today the designation as Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

The 24-year-old senior from Greensboro, N.C. backed up his words by leading a savage Wolfpack defense that handed the Blue Devils their first defeat of the season, 21-7.

"Give Bert a lot of credit for this one," said Earle Edwards, the N.C. State coach. "He was tough to move around and put a potfull of pressure on Glacken (Scotty Glacken the Duke quarterback) and made him hurry his throws."

"His play led us on the field, but it was his two speeches before the game and at halftime that really fired up the boys. I never saw Bert so determined to win a football game."

Wilder's talks fired the Wolfpack so that they held Duke to 76 yards rushing. Wilder, in addition to his rushing of Glacken, made numerous tackles, including one that stopped a Duke threat on the Wolfpack 11. It was State's first victory over Duke in 17 seasons.

Ends Bill Truax of Louisiana State, and Jim Campbell, of Navy, were strong contenders in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Truax, termed a "Gargantua at the goal line" by Wayne Thomas of the Atlanta Journal, had a great day as LSU upset Florida 14-0 at Gainesville, Fla. Campbell was outstanding in Navy's 24-12 victory over Pitt at Innapolis. He caught seven passes from Roger Staubach for 92 yards, including four straight for 59 yards in Navy's 80-yard touchdown march in the second period that sent the panthers tumbling from the unbeaten ranks.

ODESSA, Mo. (AP)—A $604,000 bond issue for a new high school in the R-7 district was defeated for the sixth time Tuesday. The vote was 721 in favor and 537 against—short of the two-thirds majority required.

The school board says the present school is overcrowded and in need of repairs.

Friends Like These Surely Aren't Needed

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Friends who needs them?

Not John David Ackerman, 25, who told police he was robbed of a watch, two rings, $5, his shoes and pants by two friends he was drinking with Monday night.

Not Fred J. Akley, 38, who said friends he spent the day with Monday took a billfold containing $90.

Not Henry H. McDaniel, 74, who said a friend who went to his room to borrow a shirt also took $70.

Not J. D. Vaughn, 36, who said a friend beat him with a claw hammer.

Not Connie M. Mayes, 22, who related from a hospital bed that a boy friend taped her wrists behind her, smashed a kitchen chair and beat her about the head with one of its legs.

Old Style Of Running Paying Off

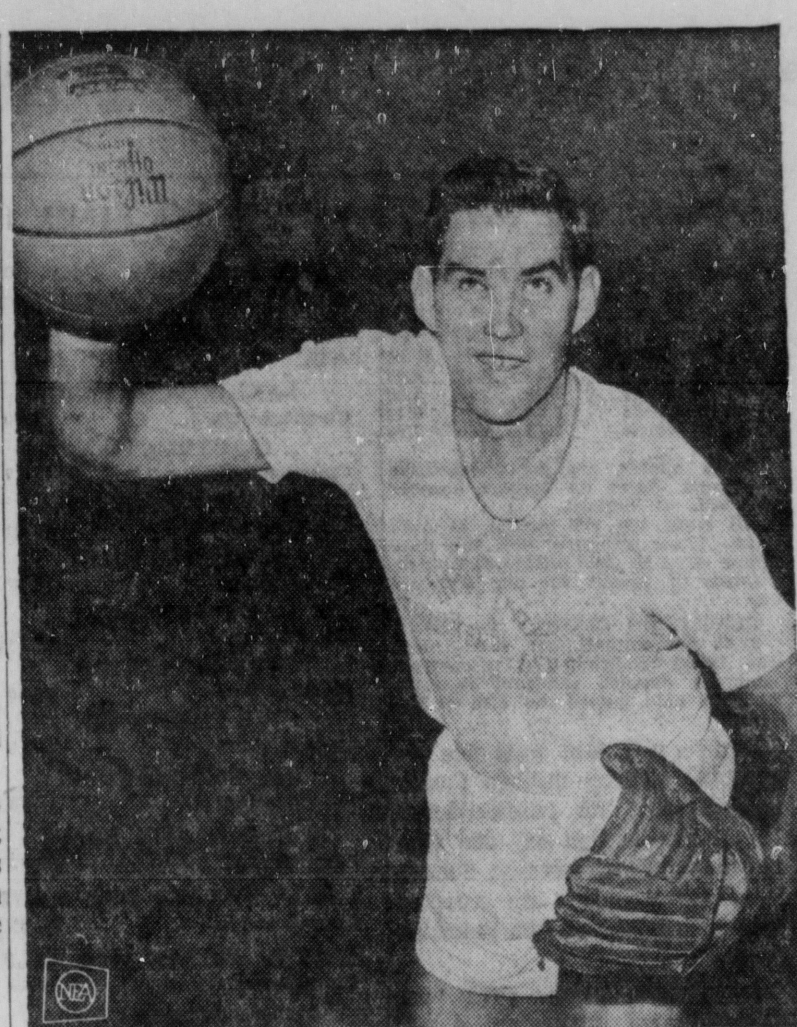

NEW YORK (AP)—It's almost impossible to blitz a swift single wing tailback or to red dog a halfback taking a handoff to go inside tackle. Hence the teams that stick to old fashioned running football are doing well in the won-lost records.

That is indicated by team statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau. The first 10 teams in the rushing offense tabulation include two of the four remaining unbeaten and untied major college teams and six that have lost only once each. Of the top 10 teams in passing, all but three have lost two or more games.

The statistical decline of Navy, which keeps on winning, and the rise of Utah State highlight this week's team offense figures. Three weeks ago the Midshipmen were tops in three offense departments, last week in one and this week in none. But they're still among the first 10 in total offense, passing and scoring.

Utah State, already the scoring leader, shot to the top in total offense. The Utags lifted their points-per-game mark to 37.5 with a 40-14 victory over Pacific and at the same time shot their yards-per-game average to 394.5.

Nebraska held on as rushing leader with 287.3 yards a game, to Army's 276.0.

Former Deputy Beats Acting Sheriff In St. Francois County

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP)—Former Chief Deputy Sheriff Leslie (Buck) Jones defeated acting Sheriff Lloyd Pinkston in a special election for sheriff of St. Francois County Tuesday.

The vote was 4,586 for Jones to 2,666 for Pinkston in an election to fill the unexpired term of Sheriff Clay Mullins who resigned effective Oct. 4 because of poor health.

Pinkston, former Bonne Terre policeman, had been serving under appointment by the county clerk.

Jones, operator of a Farmington sporting goods store, was chief deputy under Mullins for three years.

Drama of Arrest By Brother Ends

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP)—A drama of three brothers arrested by a fourth played its latest act in District Court Tuesday.

Francis and Peter Hoffman, 20-year-old twins, were placed on probation for burglarizing an automobile repair shop. Last month, their brother, Virgil, 27, was sentenced to two to three years for the same burglary.

Pro Football Draft Begins In a Month

NEW YORK (AP)—When the pros draft the college stars in another month they can ignore the "red shirt" crop already picked as "futures."

Among the names in that group are Pete Liske and Harrison Rosdahl of Penn State, Mike Fracchia of Alabama, Don Trull of Baylor, Dennis Claridge of Nebraska, J. B. Simmons of Tulsa, John Maczuzak of Pitt and Dave Mathieson of Washington State. All have been drafted in both leagues under the provision that permits prior picking of athletes whose class already has graduated.

There should be some frenzied bidding for Liske, Penn State's passing quarterback. He has been picked by the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Jets. With the Eagles in a jam for quarterbacks due to recurrent injuries to Sonny Jurgensen, and the Jets rebuilding with big money, young Liske should be able to strike quite a bargain.

Claridge could have an interesting winter, too. Vince Lombardi of Green Bay drafted him No. 3 last December, unusually high for a future.

Plan To Take Light-Heavy Title In Bits

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—It may take a while for Eddie Cotton to get a crack at the world light heavyweight championship. But the quiet Seattle fighter will take the title in pieces if he has to.

Cotton, ranked the No. 1 contender to World Boxing Association champion Willie Pastrano, won the Michigan version of the world title with a unanimous decision over sixth-ranked Henry Hank of Detroit Tuesday night.

Cotton has won decisions over highly rated foreign fighters, including Scotland's Chick Calderwood, but has yet to get the fight he wants—with Pastrano. Cotton, 36, gave away seven years and 2½ pounds to Hank, but used his six-inch reach advantage to keep the Detroit slugger off balance with an effective left jab. Cotton weighed 172½ pounds and Hank 175.

The Seattle puncher, a tool and die maker with an aircraft firm when he's not fighting, admitted Hank hurt him in the ninth round.

"He hit me good, but I didn't let him know it and was able to box out of it," Cotton said.

Hank sat dejectedly in his dressing room and talked of quitting the ring.

"When a man fights as good a fight as I did in his home state and loses, then it's about time to quit," he said.

Cotton's manager, George Chermes, had threatened to pull his fighter out of the match after finding out a 90-second rest period would be used between rounds, instead of the usual 60 seconds.

He later backed off on the demand.

Cotton, of course, would like to fight Pastrano, but it appears a bout with either Germany's Gustav Schultz or Italy's Guilo Ranaldi will be next.

Injury List Big Worry For Lemm

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Coach Walley Lemm of the St. Louis Cardinals has two big worries in Sunday's National Football League show-down battle with the New York Giants — the injury list and the Bald Bomber.

"It's bad enough to have some of our top men sidelined," Lemm said, "but in trying to stop Y. A. Tittle we've got a real headache."

The Cards and Giants, tied for second place with 5-2 records and one game out in the leagues eastern division, meet in St. Louis. A sell-out crowd of over 30,000 is indicated.

Cardinal back John David Crow's weak knee was injured again in Sunday's 21-7 victory over Washington. He was scheduled to undergo surgery today and likely will be out for the season.

Defensive end Ed Henke, who dislocated an elbow in the final 30 seconds, may be lost for two or three games. End Taz Anderson, out with an injured knee may not be available Sunday.

"But Tittle is our main problem," Lemm said. "He's one of the greatest passers I've ever seen. He's very quick and accurate at getting his passes away and finding a receiver. And he's got that great Giant line in front of him."

Lemm said the Cardinals

He succeeds Dr. J. Myron Auld Jr. of Kansas City.

The Missouri group is meeting in conjunction with the 36th annual Clinical Assembly of the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons.

mainly would use only the front four men to rush Tittle, whose 16 touchdown passes and 60.8 per cent completions lead the NFL.

"If you use six or seven men to rush him you're dead, because Tittle can have a field day with receivers in the clear," he added.

The Cardinals have their own ace passer in quarterback Charley Johnson. He leads the NFL in yards gained with 1,779 and in completions with 114. But he also leads the field in pass interceptions with 14, compared to two for Tittle.

Art World
Racks Up
Another 1st

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Another first for the art world — Mae Clarke is having a one-woman show in her unemployment insurance office.

You remember Mae. Anyway, you remember the grapefruit. The one that Jimmy Cagney pushed in her face in "Public Enemy." It set a whole new style in male-female etiquette and did wonders for the citrus industry.

Mae is also noted as the girl who almost got the guy in the original "Frankenstein."

Such accomplishments may now fade in the glow of Mae's latest career as an artist. If you ment insurance department, you are near the North Hollywood office of the state unemployment-might drop in and see her show —well, two canvases, anyway.

How did she happen to choose the unique gallery?

"Well, I took up painting a year ago just to see if I could do it," she explained. "It was something to do between acting jobs, and I got interested. People began telling me my work was good, and I wanted some exposure. No sense in hiding my talent on my apartment wall."

"The ideal thing would be to have an exhibit at Raymond Burr's gallery, but he only has Picasso and people like that. Or I'd have a big party and let Vincent Price introduce me. I can't afford it."

Mae is a longtime member of a non-exclusive club of Hollywood names who collect their weekly unemployment checks at the state offices. Any day you can find recognizable faces standing in line as they wait to pick up their checks "between engagements."

"It's not a dole," said Mae. "We do it without shame. Adolph Menjou led the way."

It was the dapper Menjou who attracted attention to the practice by arriving at the state office in his chauffeured Rolls Royce, standing in line for his check, then driving back to his Beverly Hills mansion.

"The fact that we can get checks shows that we have been working," Mae remarked. Under California law, unemployment insurance funds are deducted from work checks.

Youths' Health
Pointers Given
By Mrs. Norris

"To Keep Children Fit and Hardy" was the subject of Mrs. T. J. Norris' talk to the Parent and Family Life Group of Mark Twain School Tuesday morning at the school.

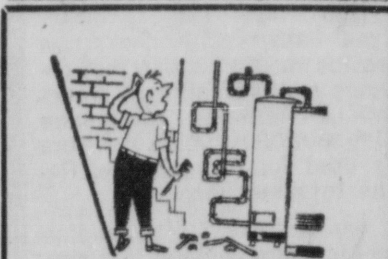

Mrs. Orville Jennings, chairman, presided. Mrs. Cecil Bohon was appointed the nursery chairman.

Points stressed by Mrs. Norris were: good nutrition, good medical care, first rate dental care, proper rest and sleep. She reviewed recommendations on physical education put forth by the President's Council on Youth Fitness.

In speaking of moral and social fitness for children, Mrs. Norris noted an article by W. W. Bauer, M. D., stating a child should be guided and be allowed to make a reasonable amount of mistakes. Parents need to consider the total health of children in developing physically, morally and socially fit individuals, said Mrs. Norris.

Dr. Leonard Reifel, pastor of Federated Church, will speak on "Alcohol and Your Children" at the Nov. 7 meeting at Heber U. Hunt School.

Business Gains Forecast
By Industrial Executives

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Increasingly good business in the next two months—a seasonal hesitancy perhaps in the first couple of months of 1964—and then a moderate but quite healthy gain in the spring.

That's the pleasant expectation of the majority of industrial executives and their economists now being proffered Americans in a steady flow of predictions.

Minorities on both sides of the average offer their variations. Some see strong advance for all of 1964. A few others think the present upswing in the economy is in its final months, with or without a federal tax cut.

But autumn's flow of increasing corporate earnings, many sweetened by higher profit margins in sales, and the happy excitement in the stock markets with each piece of good news, strengthens the expectation of the majority of business executives that good times are likely to get better before they peter out.

And the majority discounts all indications that the turnabout already may be gestating.

Personal incomes continue to swell, as do consumer spending and the taking on of additional consumer debt. Retail sales hit a record in the summer and seem sure to better the mark in the final months of the year. Auto sales are booming, and that always reassures the public.

Industrial production has climbed higher fairly steadily.

All of this has raised the Gross National Product to a record high, well above what had been expected at the start of the year. This dollar total of all goods and services produced is put at an annual rate of $588.5 billion in the third quarter, a hefty $8.9 billion gain over the April-May-June quarter. A turn-

M'Campbell Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Romig, Route 1, were hosts for the McCampbell family reunion at their home Oct. 27.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCampbell, Santa Rosa, Calif.; Jimmy McCampbell, of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown, Holden; Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Wood and daughter, Mary Anna, Independence; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Mrs. Glinda Inselman, Green Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Borchers and daughter, Sylvia, Warrensburg; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCampbell and children, Danella and Rayneal, Marshall.

ther rise in the final months of this year seems all but in the bag.

So why does the small minority of economists fret?

For one thing, the current business upswing is 32 months old, against an average of 27 months for this phase of the business cycle. The worriers caution that all that goes up must come down. And they add that a federal tax cut, if any, may come too late to stave off the downturn, but merely cushion it a bit.

For another, the economy's two chief weaknesses—the hard core of unemployment and the deficit in international balance of payments—may be alleviated a bit from time to time but still are fundamentally unsolved.

Auto Sales,
Production
Hike Profits

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dazzling profit figures are sprouting from the dizzy production and sales pact set by Detroit's automakers.

They gave promise of warming the hearts—and palms—of stockholders, including the more than one million of the General Motors Corp.

Of the "Big Three" automakers, only Ford Motor Co. remained today to be heard from following GM's report of all-time high earnings and dollar sales in the nine months ended Sept. 30.

Chrysler Corp. last week unfolded another financial chapter in its spectacular. Directors promptly voted a 2-for-1 stock split, the second in less than a year, and in effect doubled the dividend.

GM's pattern of rewarding its shareholders — whether by more liberal dividend treatment or possibly a stock split—will be decided when directors meet Monday in New York.

In the first nine months, GM cleared $1,086,000,000, or $3.79 a common stock share, on unprecedented sales of $11,681,000,000.

The results suggested strong-

The nine-month figures compared with $962 million, or $3.36 a share, in 1950.

LOVE THAT PARIS TOUCH!—Rita Hayworth couldn't resist a stop-off in Paris for the Gallic touch to her hairdo, en route to location in Spain for a new film.

Rare Things In Show Biz Today Is Julie Andrews

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the rarest things in show business are a modest operatic tenor—and a happy actress.

But English actress Julie Andrews right now is dwelling on a peak of ecstasy.

"I'm happier than I have ever been in my life—and I've had a very happy life," she proclaimed, attacking a luncheon plate of eggs Benedict.

The sources of her joy are threefold—marriage, motherhood and career. All are flourishing.

Julie came here to complete a film. With her came her husband and childhood sweetheart, producer Tony Walton, and their chubby-cheeked daughter, Emma Kate, who is in the learning to walk and spilling food on the floor stage.

Motherhood has brought to maturity the bloom of beauty which shone in Julie's performance as the Cockney lass in "My Fair Lady," which she sang over 1,500 times here and in London.

She is reconciled now to the fact that Audrey Hepburn was picked to play the film role.

Her own career is full of so many pending projects she has little time to mull over disappointments. She plans more films, a London musical, and perhaps more television shows.

Julie, tall, blonde and stately of bearing, has a warm, friendly, almost madcap quality when she is among friends. She likes to recall the merry times she had when she first came to Broadway.

"We got paid on Fridays," she said, "so on Thursday my roommate and I usually had nothing to eat except eggs we bought at a delicatessen and cooked in our room."

As she spoke, she spilled on the table some sugar she was putting into her tea. Unconsciously, she picked up a few grains—as if they were salt—and tossed them over her left shoulder.

"I might as well. It can't hurt," she said.

"No, I'm not really superstitious. But I'm super, super careful. I always case the joint very well before I take a step in any situation."

Julie said that to her the important things in life are "love, health, and a bloody good sense of humor."

Negro Singer Enjoying Big Success

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I don't know whether I should thank heaven for the march on Washington," says singer Nancy Wilson, "but business has been very good."

Like many Negro performers, Nancy has enjoyed a spurt in her career in recent months. It would appear that the clamor for Negro rights has reached the consciences, or perhaps the hard business minds of those who do the hiring of talent.

A Columbus, Ohio, girl with rare beauty and singing style, Nancy had been doing well on her own. She had been playing some of the better night clubs, with occasional concerts. Her Capitol record albums have been pushing the 100,000 mark.

But only recently has she been getting interest from the important television variety shows and from bookers of the top supper clubs. A significant breakthrough is her signing with an agency for commercials. Other spots for television are in the offing.

"Things seem to be opening up for all Negro performers," she observed. "Before, when you saw an elevator scene in a movie, the passengers were all white. Now I notice there is a Negro or two. I guess the producers decided that Negroes ride elevators too."

"I believe there will be increasing work for Negro actors and as that happens the caliber of acting will get better. There have been only a few really good ones, because all Negro actors had so little opportunity to demonstrate what they could do."

Even the best of Negro entertainers have a tough time getting to the top, she said.

And what of Nancy Wilson? It has been a long, hard pull up the ladder for the girl who started at 15 with her own television show in Columbus. She grew up there, having been born in Chillicothe, Ohio.

Her home-town success sent her on to New York, where the going was not always easy.

Now the wife of drummer Kenny Dennis and mother of Kenny Jr., she maintains a home here but spends most of her year on the road. "That's all right with me," she said. "I want to sing."

Y'S TOP STAFFER—James F. Bunting, 57, has been named general secretary of the national board and national council of Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States. He'll take over the top staff position of the YMCA Feb. 1, 1964, upon retirement of Herbert P. Lansdale Jr.

School Level of American Women Well Below Our Men

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail!

American women are lagging farther behind in higher education. They outnumber the male sex in high school, but not in college. Women now earn only one in three bachelors' and masters' degrees, and only one in ten doctorates.

Worse yet are these figures: Four million adult U.S. women have had less than five years of schooling and 11½ million started but failed to finish high school. We've just discovered that National Macaroni Week is over—and we failed to celebrate with a single meatball. But it is nice to know, isn't it, that if the 1½ billion pounds of Macaroni products we consume each year were converted to spaghetti, they'd stretch 102,414,000 miles. British science has come up with what may turn out to be the wonder drug of the century. It's a tranquilizer that reportedly turns women's hair blonde at the same time it calms their nerves. Supposed to work on men, too, fellows. Our quotable notables: "Never give a man up until he has failed at something he likes." —Warden Lewis E. Lawes. It takes 200 employees to staff Buckingham Palace's 700 rooms. The palace also has 300 clocks and 50 television sets. Don't be the kind of boss who is always giving orders. Studies show that too much supervision tends to downgrade the performances of workers. Thieves in the first nine months of this year stole 249,368 cars valued at $225 million, a 12 per cent increase over the same period in 1962. Ever wonder what the difference is between a wiener and a frankfurter? It's a matter of size, butchers say. Franks are usually about an inch thick and four inches long; wieners are about ½ inch thinner and 5½ inches or more long. The U.S. government has operated at a deficit in 26 of the last 32 years.

Six Millionth Car Built By Industry

DETROIT (AP)—The U. S. auto industry built its six millionth passenger car of 1963 last week and continued on towards its goal of seven-million-plus for the year.

Auto output last week was reported as 183,013 cars, highest of any week since mid-1962. This also represented a sizable jump over the 179,422 cars built the preceding week and the 162,986 cars built in the corresponding week a year ago.

Automotive News, a trade publication, estimated October output would hit 674,070 units and the year-to-date figure an estimated 6,026,897.

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—More girl cosmonauts are in training in the Soviet Union "and if I may say so, they are beautiful girls," says Valentina Tereshkova.

The Soviet space girl told a televised news conference Sunday night that future Soviet space ships will have mixed crews of men and women — "otherwise the men would get bored."

RENO, Nev. — Capt. John R. McKone, who spent seven months as a prisoner of the Soviet Union, will attend the Air Force Command and Staff School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., starting in September.

McKone, 31, and Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead were the only survivors of an RB47 reconnaissance bomber crew shot down by the Soviets in 1960. They were released seven months later.

MANILA (AP)—The award of a Pulitzer Prize in 1961 to author-diplomat Carlos P. Romulo was commemorated today with a black and gold plaque at the entrance to the Philippines Herald where he once worked as a reporter and editor. Romulo, former Philippine ambassador to the United States and the United Nations, is president of the University of the Philippines.

Romulo received the Pulitzer Prize for a series of articles on Asia shortly before the outbreak of the Pacific war.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Kennedy is scheduled to address a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner Wednesday in support of Mayor James H. J. Tate, running for a full four-year term.

Rep. William J. Green Jr., D-Pa., said the President would attend a reception just before the dinner.

Paris Ball Proves Dull On Camera

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, ever eager to bring viewers new experiences, sometimes takes a tumble.

It is doubtful whether television can ever persuade us that it is more fun to look at a party than to go to one. NBC tried to do this Sunday night and failed. The "April in Paris Ball" in New York Friday night looked like a pretty dull affair from my armchair, but maybe it simply defied the cameras. A taped account occupied an hour of air time.

The formal entertainment consisted of music by such entertainers as Liza Minnelli, Frank Sinatra Jr. and Peter Duchin, all bright young second-generation talents, but it was the sort of thing to be found almost any night on a TV variety show.

Liza Kirk, who acted as sort of hostess and guide mentioned all the debutante and society people supposed to be there, but never spoke of anybody by name. She also said it was the most expensive ball in the country—but didn't say what the tickets cost.

There were a few great moments for women drivers. In a fashion show we saw a coat made of—and I quote Miss Kirk—"Chinese rooster feathers."

Jack Paar, who has been quietly — too quietly — hosting a

There was little news, a short feature on Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, another on drinking in Washington. It talked of books, music, architecture and touched everything from the Eastern dry spell to NBC's way of censoring its programs. It covered too much too fast, and probably will shake down to some sort of a format in a few weeks.

He took a few mean swipes at the comedy show, "Harry's Girls," which precedes him on NBC. He sneered at the quality of the show's scripts and suggested that his own show was suffering because of its small audience.

"Harry's Girls" is already in trouble. There is talk that NBC or a sponsor would like Paar to take over the time. That would make it TV's first 90-minute variety show. NBC says "no comment," so perhaps a deal is in the making.

Pearl of My Dreams

Pearl river has been publicized lately in connection with discussion of the sewer bond election November 12. It's not a river at all but a small stream carrying drainage water from Sedalia along North Grand avenue, thence east of the Georgetown neighborhood and emptying into Muddy Creek. This combination flows to the Lamine river, the latter to the Missouri river, the Missouri to the Mississippi, the Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico, the Gulf to the Atlantic Ocean.

Sounds like that ditty about the ankle bones to the hip bones to the jaw bones.

The anomaly about Pearl river is it empties into a creek. In one way it is bigger than Muddy, it smells to high heaven. That's because Sedalia's north plant sewage empties its overload into Pearl. If ever a stream was mislabeled it is Pearl, a name indicating in truest sense that which is very choice or precious; the finest or noblest specimen or class.

Ugh!

That's what most travelers along

North Grand to Georgetown exclaim as they pinch their noses.

Curiosity has some peculiar twists. Since Pearl River came into prominence during the current sewer bond campaign, there is noticeable increase in traffic out that way particularly on Sundays.

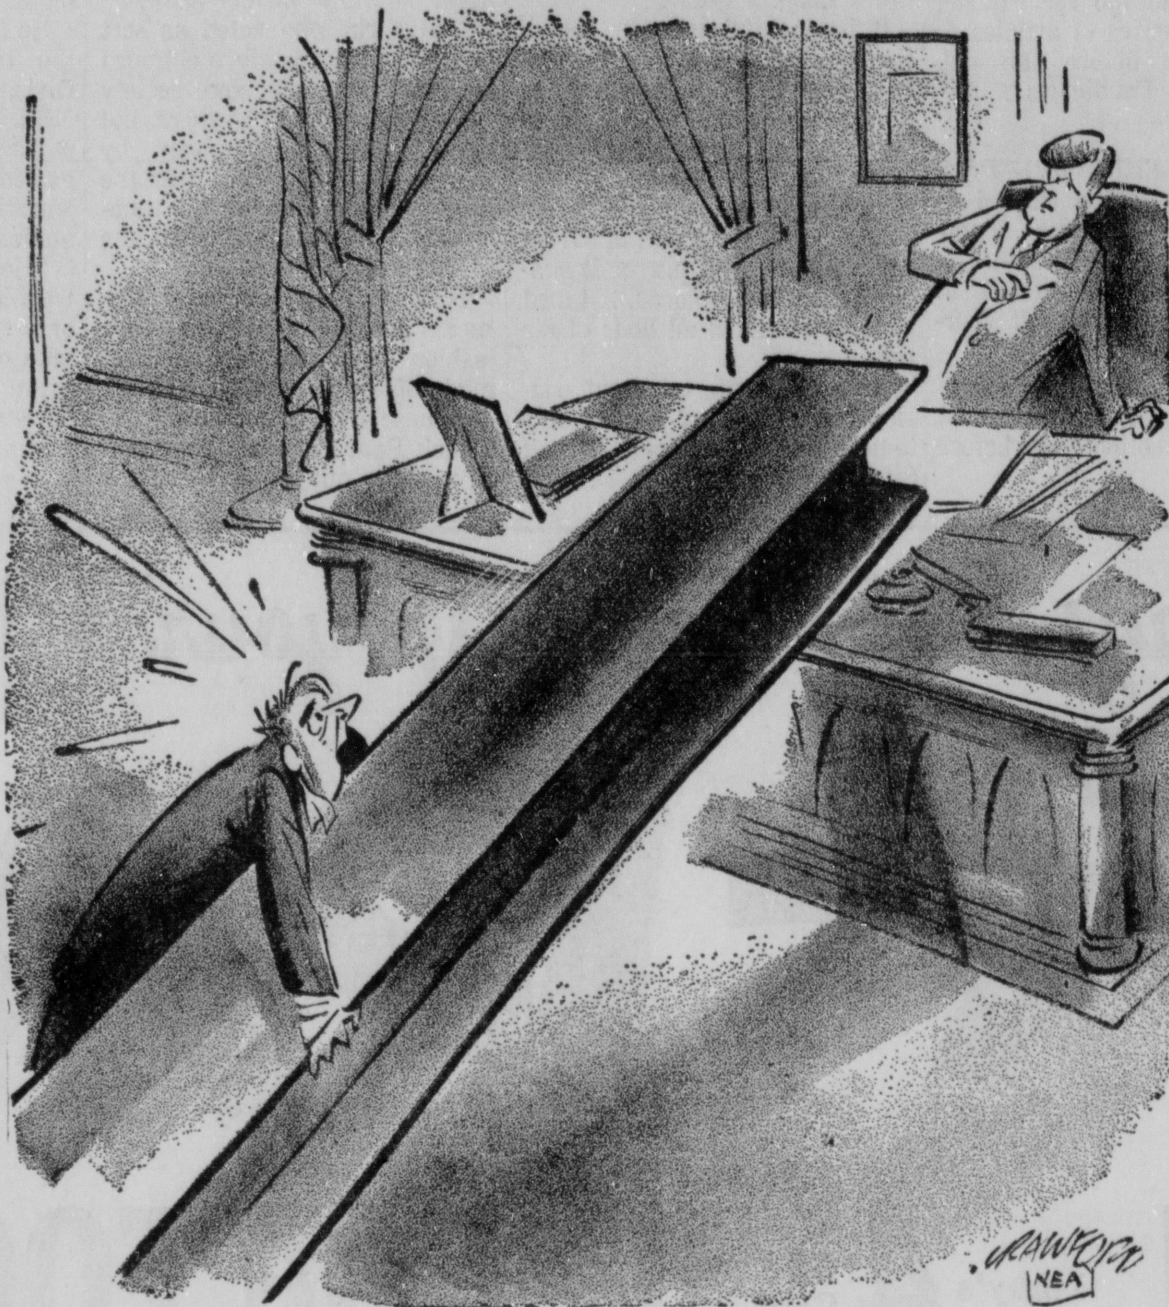

Surprisingly enough, hundreds of people are unaware Sedalia has a river nearby. So they've been going out for a look-see only to return disappointed because the river is only a stream, and nauseated from the aroma emanating from it.

We started out to discuss the nose as a delicate organ and somehow got off the road and into Pearl River. We actually did that once on a nut-hunting trip as a boy. Nightmarishly, we dreamed about that experience recently.

Regardless of this diversion from the original subject, there is an affinity between Pearl river and noses. If you don't believe to go out that way next Sunday and take a whiff. This may stimulate you to support the bond issue when it comes time to vote November 12.

JFK Wins 1st Round In Rights Battle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has won the first big round in his attempt to get a civil rights bill through Congress this year. But he may be on the ropes, with no bill passed before the year ends.

Time, because there isn't much left of 1963, and the opposition of Southern Democrats in the Senate will work against him. There have been four main steps in this struggle so far, with two more still to come.

1. There was no indication until June 19 that Kennedy intended to ask Congress for a strong, new civil rights law this year. In the spring Negro demonstrations, with accompanying violence, built up tensions.

On June 19 he presented Congress with a fairly strong program. There was instant opposition from Southern Democrats. Republicans, or some of them, in House and Senate were rather reserved.

The bill, as a necessary preliminary before it could get to the full House for a vote, went to the House Judiciary Committee. On this committee, headed by Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., liberals of both parties dominate.

2. Under the urging of civil rights advocates they decided the Kennedy bill wasn't strong enough. So they scrapped Kennedy's proposal, although retaining some of it, and put together a much stronger one of their own.

It should be remembered that in this Congress, where there is a big gap between Southern and liberal Democrats, not all Republicans see eye to eye with their House leader, the conservative Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Instantly Kennedy was afraid this strong bill was too strong to pass in this overwhelmingly conservative Congress which, although run by huge Democratic majorities, has been less than ecstatic about a civil rights bill at all.

He sent his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to Celler's committee to plead for a softer bill. This didn't make a dent. So the President himself took a hand.

3. He began calling White House conferences, a number of them over several days, of Democratic and Republican leaders to ask them to use their weight to tone down the committee bill. He finally got his way.

But it was worked out in amazing fashion.

The Kennedy administration and Republicans in the House—but not House Democrats—worked out a compromise bill which Republicans agreed to and Democrats on the Celler committee were finally persuaded to accept.

4. So Tuesday the House Judiciary Committee voted to scrap the strong bill its members had wanted and approved the one manufactured by the administration and the Republicans.

This is stronger than the first Kennedy bill but weaker than the one the Judiciary Committee wanted to substitute for it. It was promptly denounced as too weak by some of the leaders among the civil rights advocates.

And—the Kennedy administration was so grateful to the Republicans that the attorney general publicly praised them. Any chance of a civil rights bill becoming law this year without their help would have been remote.

It was an astonishing admission when it is remembered that in this Congress Democrats so far outnumber Republicans they could put anything through—if they operated as a single party and stuck together. But they don't.

At this point time begins to play its vital, perhaps fatal, part in the two big remaining steps.

5. It is now Oct. 30. It will take the Judiciary Committee 10 days or so to draft a report on the bill. Then this goes to the Rules Committee where it may be held up for a week or more before getting to the House for a vote.

That will mean past mid-November. Allowing for other delays, and the Thanksgiving Day holiday, it may be Dec. 1 before the Senate will or can start to act even though the House approves before then. House approval seems certain.

But, in order to try to kill the bill altogether, Senate Democrats from the South will filibuster. And there will be other jockeying. A filibuster can take weeks. Then the Christmas holidays intrude.

So it will be no surprise if a civil rights bill doesn't pass this year. Maybe it will in 1964.

Democrat Pick-ups

And what is a necessity and an emergency in Sunday buying?

A Sedalia woman and her daughter laughed when they went in a drug store in a city recently to get some medicine. They looked around, just for fun, to see what they couldn't buy, which they didn't want anyway.

One of the things they could buy, however, was a coupon book for ten cents that was filled with coupons, each worth ten cents off on things that they couldn't buy that day.

The thing that really amazed them, though, was that one item they could buy—which was on the emergency list, was an artificial Christmas tree, and it was then two and a half months until Christmas.—H.L.

For many years a woman has been going to football games and knows all about the game but she certainly got confused at one recently. It was one played by Missouri and some other team and the colors of the uniforms were very similar.

When one of the players got through the line and was racing toward the goal post the woman sighed and said: "Oh, that's a shame—"

"A shame—what are you talking about—" said her husband, "that's our team—"

And the woman who had, for a moment become mixed up on the colors of the uniforms, couldn't help it, laughed. Perhaps no other woman knows football better than she does—and yet she didn't know when to root and when to sigh. H. L.

The teacher of music in one of the schools put a staff on the blackboard in teaching some of the third grade children.

"This is a staff" she explained. "It is a music staff—can any of you think of any other kinds of staffs?"

"There is a flag staff" said one of the little girls.

"That's right," said the teacher — "Does anybody think of any other kinds of staffs?"

"Yes" piped up a little boy, "there is Falstaff."—H.L.

Red Wheat Deal Does Not Justify Bread Price Rise

BY PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — There is no justification whatever for an increase in the U.S. price of bread as a result of wheat sales to Soviet Russian and Communist bloc countries, say Department of Agriculture grain experts.

Rumors of an impending bread price rise have sprung up in various parts of the country as a result of wheat flour price rises recently announced at Minneapolis, Kansas City and Texas milling centers. These increases are seen as seasonal adjustments and not big enough to warrant a rise in bread prices.

Millers and bakers would be playing with dynamite if they used the Communist wheat purchases as an excuse to raise flour and bread prices in the United States.

The rumormongers caused by steel price increases after the last strike settlement and the federal grand jury investigation into more recent steel rises would be nothing compared to the uproar over a bread price rise now. Experts point out, however, that in a free world market, there are bound to be some fluctuations reflecting changing conditions.

World Wheat Prices advanced from an average of $1.79-$1.81 to $2.16-$2.40 a bushel on a purely speculative basis when Russia made its first half billion dollar purchase from Canada. Previously, Canada had sold wheat to Red China and some to Russia at $1.74. The U.S. protested this low price.

But wheat futures did not advance further when Russia let it be known she wanted to buy U.S. wheat and President Kennedy announced that such a sale would be approved.

Wheat flour price fluctuations are another story. A year ago, flour sold in Minneapolis at $5.95 to $6 a hundred pounds. Last July, when the 1963 wheat crop began to be harvested, the price dropped to $5.50-$5.55. The Oct. 23, 1963 price was $5.75-$5.80.

Bakers did not lower the price of bread when flour prices went down last summer. Presumably, bakers bought wheat ahead last summer, before recent grain prices increased. Bakers, therefore, have no justification for raising bread prices for at least six months, or even longer if there are no further increases in wheat and flour prices.

The recent 20-cent price increase on 100 pounds of flour warrants an increase of only one cent on a five-pound bag of flour. The comparable, justifiable price increase on bread would be about one-fourth cent a loaf.

Though there is now an increased world demand for wheat from Communist bloc countries, there is no short supply justifying any price increases.

The U.S. wheat supply is estimated at 2.3 billion bushels for the 1963-64 crop year. With domestic use of 600 million bushels and normal exports of 800 million bushels, the carryover as of July 1, 1964, would be 900 million bushels.

Russia and its satellite countries have been talking about purchases of four million tons, which is 150 million bushels. Most of this wheat would have to come from U.S. government stocks, acquired at a cost of $2 a bushel, average.

The government's Commodity Credit Corp. is prohibited by law from selling this at less than 105 per cent of the present support price of $1.82 a bushel, which is $1.91.

With world market prices running below this figure, CCC makes a daily determination of the export subsidy it will pay to make up the difference. This has been running from 50 to 60 cents a bushel.

If Russia & Co. buy 150 million bushels of U.S. wheat, CCC will have to write off a loss of $90 million.

Payment will not be made in cash, but in wheat, which grain dealers can market for whatever they can get.

But In Getting Rid Of This Wheat, the government saves on storage costs.

At an average of 26 cents a bushel per year for storage, maintenance and handling, the saving on 150 million bushels would be $39 million a year, or $195 million over five years, the average time CCC holds its wheat.

The total purchase price on 150 million bushels of wheat, including transportation charges, is expected to be $260 million. This would show up as about a $200 million saving on the 1965 fiscal year U.S. budget and an improvement of that amount on the balance of payments.

DEAR POLLY — Here is a last-minute suggestion for mothers who whip up Halloween costumes—at the last minutes. I make head masks out of old leotards. These masks really stay on. Place the panty part of the leotard right down over the child's head. The waist band rubber will hold it comfortably around the child's neck. Cut out holes for the eyes. Breathing is easy through the knit. If, one prefers, a slit could be made for the nose and one for the mouth.

Cheeks can be applied pieces of red fabric and lips can be put on the same way. Twist the leotard legs up and around the head and conceal under a hat, bandana or other headpiece. Or, they could hang loosely and be tied with ribbons for pigtales. Beige leotards make good masks for would-be Indians, white and blue for clowns and so on. Happy Halloween. — MRS. L. B.

DEAR POLLY — Old style standing bridge lamps are wonderful to hold hanging baskets of flowers or vines. Remove the wire and light socket on the extending arm of the lamp. Hang basket on the arm from a hook placed at the end where the socket was. Enamel the standard any color you like.—MRS. E. L.

DEAR POLLY — An unusual and appreciated baby shower present, especially for a first baby, is a fever thermometer and a first aid book. It probably will not be duplicated.—MRS. G. F. G.

GIRLS—This is a different idea as a baby can only wear so many booties and use a limited number of receiving blankets which seem to be standard gifts.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—After cutting a few pieces of cake you can keep the remainder fresh and moist by setting the cake on a large plate, placing an open glass of water between the cut-out sections, then firmly invert the top of a cake carrier over the plate. A plastic dishpan works just fine, too. This is a restaurant trick which will work in your own kitchen.—C. W.

GIRLS—A low fruit-juice glass fits inside my regular cake plate cover. M. A., at our neighborhood bakery, passed along a good hint for freezing iced cakes. Place on a stiff cardboard, in a plastic bag, let air into the bag until it is puffed out above the cake, fasten cake and air in by tightly twisting the bag with a pipe cleaner. Put in freezer and when removed there is no icing sticking to the bag.—POLLY

ATLANTA JOURNAL: Eternal Soap Opera.—It took a doggedly determined relay team of 10 pianists to perform the world's longest piece of music in Manhattan. The last note was struck 18 hours and 40 minutes after the concert had begun.

The original composition, appropriately titled "Vexations," consisted of but one page. The composer's instructions required it to be repeated 840 times. The title and the repetition suggests that it inevitably will wind up as background music for a television commercial.

Skull Session Pros

One of the blossoming mysteries of current history is the speed with which heads of government can communicate thoughts.

Burdened with all the complexities of international relations, our foreign friends come to Washington. There may be a luncheon, which we must presume is accompanied largely by social small-talk.

Afterward, there is a face-to-face discussion "for a full hour," usually. As the foreign guest departs, a statement is handed out that the meeting resulted in a "full and frank exchange of views" or that it was a "useful meeting."

And they were talking through interpreters, yet.

It would be helpful all around if our good and wise government would pass along this secret of fast action to the rest of us. In our office, the guys sit down for an "exchange of views" and by the time it's over, the morning is shot. So they continue at lunch

Unsolved Chicago Gangland Murders

By DREW PEARSON

CHICAGO—Since 1919, there have been 976 gangland murders in Chicago. Only two have been solved.

Almost 1,000 times, members of the underworld have invoked their own law against law enforcement officers or members of their illicit profession—exactly as Joe Valachi has testified. And in all but two cases, the police, the courts, the FBI, and state prosecutors have been either powerless or unable to catch the murderer.

Three of the unsolved murders revolve around the case of James J. Ragen, head of the Continental race wire, who had given me permission to relay the underworld story to then Attorney General Tom Clark and who was bumped off by the mob in retaliation.

Three witnesses had seen the fruit truck pull up alongside Ragen's car at Pershing Road and State Street, had seen the tarpaulin cover pulled back and had watched three men machine-gun Ragen. Later they identified the assassins as members of Jake "Greasy Thumb" Guzik's mob.

What followed illustrates why underworld murderers are not apprehended and why Joe Valachi, 14 years after the Ragen murder, testified truthfully that crime conditions remain about the same.

Of the three witnesses to the murder, two recanted after visits from Guzik's lawyers. One witness, Lucius Davidson, stuck to his story, said he could identify the murderers. He was kept in jail 73 days, presumably to protect him from being murdered, but it ruined his health and his business.

One of the men he identified, an ex-convict named William Block, took a lie detector test but took it on his own terms. Halfway through the test he threw off the apparatus, tore up the graphs which recorded his reactions, and protested to the operator: "You're asking me the wrong questions."

Two members of the police force worked hard to solve the mystery—Lt. William J. Drury, with whom I was in contact, and Capt. Thomas Connelly. They suspected three men. But when they pushed the probe too hard they were dismissed from the po-

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

On the first anniversary of organization of the Sedalia Philatelic Society the group was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bratten, 512 West Fifth street. Officers elected are: President, Walter Kennedy; Vice-President, the Rev. R. A. Park; Secretary, Mrs. Bratten; Treasurer, C. N. Farley.

FORTY YEARS AGO

A huge Americana eagle, his wings measuring seven feet from tip to tip was shot down by Ralph Smith, two miles north of Dresden, while the bird was bearing away a chicken seized in the Smith family poultry yard. It was brought down on the Jack Eckles farm a quarter of a mile away.

—1923—

A. C. Harter was unanimously re-elected to the presidency of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the new board of directors held at Hildebrand's. Other officers chosen are: W. S. Cotton, vice-president; and W. H. Powell, re-elected treasurer. Lee Montgomery was elected national counselor.

and then come back for an afternoon session.

Once in a while, it even goes into the second day.

At PTA, any meeting which could possibly be called "useful" goes on until those little chairs get so agonizing that the group revolts and walks out on the officers.

No wonder those guys who meet so fast in Washington are heads of states.

lice force and later indicted for conspiracy to secure false testimony.

Later, when Sen. Estes Kefauver began his investigation of underworld crime, Lt. Drury was one of those who supplied him information. This was in 1950, just as the Kefauver probe was starting to get under way.

On Sept. 13 of that year, Drury telegraphed John E. Babb, Republican candidate for sheriff of Cook County, who had promised to clean up crime. Drury congratulated Babb and told him how when he had arrested Charles Fischetti, a leader of the old Capone mob, together with Frank Nitty, the opposing candidate for sheriff, Tubby Gilbert, had released them.

The telegram was sent on Sept. 13 and published in the press on that day. Thirteen days later, the ex-police lieutenant who had bucked the underworld in Chicago put his car into his garage at 1843 Addison Street. He backed in, as he had done for many years. There were four shotgun blasts. When Mrs. Drury ran out, she found her husband, his head almost blown from his body.

On that same night, Marvin J. Bas, an attorney who had given Kefauver a report on the gambling syndicate, was killed as he returned home. Neither murder has ever been solved, nor will it be.

It doesn't pay to fight the underworld in Chicago.

Editor's Note — Pearson worked closely with Sen. Kefauver in getting his crime probe launched, and had published a series of columns on organized crime before Kefauver actually got started.

Merry-Go-Round

Sen. Barry Goldwater has privately encouraged Robert Taft, Jr., son of the late "Mr. Republican," now a congressman from Ohio, to run for vice-president in 1964.

George Meany has sent word to all unions to launch a massive registration drive to get out the vote next year. He warned that the right wing will pump tremendous sums into the '64 election. . . . Dick Nixon may deny he's a candidate for president but he has given his private phone number to various newsmen with an invitation to call him anytime they want a story.

Long Titles For Episodes Of Programs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's television viewers have some interesting choices available Wednesday night. There are, among other network items, such dramas as "He Rises on Sunday and We on Monday," "Little Drops of Water, Little Grains of Sand," "Oh, You Shouldn't Have Done It," and "The Potato Bash World."

The foregoing are the titles of episodes in network television series — respectively "Espionage," "Ben Casey," "11th Hour" and "Channing." There seems to be some sort of a quiet contest going on this season to find the longest, most non-committal and weird title for a script.

The tad for surrealistic titles seems to have started with the avant-garde playwrights who are whipping up titles like "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Such tags may amuse the writers, but they really don't do a thing for the show. Some well-established programs have resisted the vogue. Both "Wagon Train" and "Perry Mason" have used the same titles, with minor variations, for each episode since they started.

Walt Disney is no man to fool around, either. Last Sunday's show was called "The Waltz King," and the story was about a waltz king.

So how do you feel about "Comfort Me With Yoyos," "Child One With Broken Guitar String," "They are titles of future "Channing" episodes—unless someone gets there first with a big blue pencil.

CBS has a second Allen Funt show warming up in television's bullpen in the likely event that its "Glynis" succumbs after a few more weeks. The working title—and one hopes it is just that—is "Americamera." Tappings start next week.

The idea is to tap the ham in the average citizen by permitting him to appear before some cameras, and to say or do anything that comes into his head. This includes, heaven help us, telling jokes, airing gripes or even reciting home-grown poetry and prose.

CBS has an order in for 13 shows.

"McHale's Navy" cast and crew is the most popular show on the Revue lot with the guided-tour visitors. They are the only ones who will stop shooting to wave at the passersby.

It has a brief explanation of those standards on one side of the panel and on the opposite side panel a short summary of the basic human rights of democratic freedom which have grown out of the ideals of men of good will. Young people who visit the Boys Club will read Freedom Code and be influenced by its standard of character and conduct. Plants Near to Regional Markets Is Newest Swing

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A new concept of plant location—regionalization—has taken hold in American industry.

Early this century industry was primarily concentrated in the urban areas, especially in the northeastern section of the country.

A move to the suburbs, which began just before World War II to achieve straight-line production and expansion, was accelerated in the 1940s by decentralization of defense industries.

Now industry is setting up production units close to regional markets instead of shipping manufactured goods to consumers from plants traditionally located near sources of supply.

Leonard Yaseen, senior partner of Fantus Co., international plant location consultants, says the emphasis has been placed on markets rather than raw materials.

"Changes in market patterns across the country are forcing manufacturers to serve population concentrations from new facilities geared to the needs of each specific region," he says.

Here are some examples:
The Hershey Chocolate Co., which has always manufactured its products in Hershey, Pa., is breaking ground for a plant 3,000 miles west in Oakland, Calif. Hershey was faced with high transportation costs in reaching the important western market.

A few months ago, Owens-Illinois Glass Co., which had operated out of plants in Ohio and Oklahoma, opened new glass-making facilities in North Bergen, N.J., and Atlanta, Ga. Its natural gas and glass sand sources are mainly in Ohio and Oklahoma.

The American Can Co. of New York has constructed a plastics container manufacturing unit at Shelbyville, Tenn., and the A.H. Wirz Co. of Chester, Pa., manufacturer of toothpaste tubes, erected a plant at Carrollton, Ky.

Otis Elevator, Inc., is opening a plant in Bloomington, Ill., and Mattel, Inc., a California-based toy manufacturer, has opened a plant in Keyport, N.J.

Yaseen says the trend to regionalization must be sound when the nation's largest industry—automobiles—now has assembly plants in every major U.S. region. Breweries, he says, also point up the trend with almost every major beer company establishing regional facilities.

Yaseen adds that almost every new industrial job created in the Eastern Central states is now counterbalanced by the hiring of another production worker in the West or South.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's top military advisers met in a closed session today to review the eight-nation organization's defense plans.

The agenda for the talks—the 19th such gathering which the advisers hold semiannually—was kept a secret as usual. But preconference comments by chief delegates left no doubt that the order of business would include fresh looks at developments in South Viet Nam and Laos.

The U.S. delegation to the meeting was headed by Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of U.N. forces in the Pacific.

MARTIGUES, France (AP)—Police said today they had found four tons of arms in a vacant house near this town in southern France.

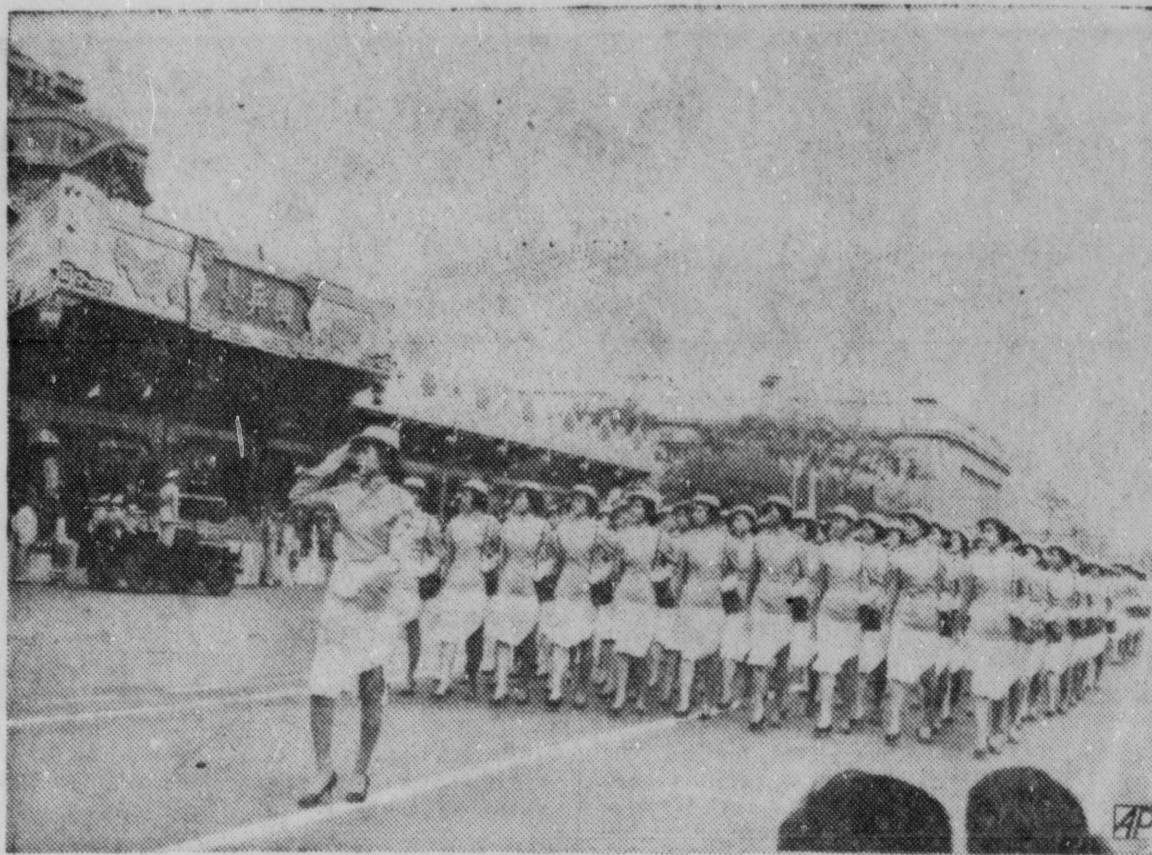

The authorities declined to give any details as they began an inventory of the weapons. There was speculation that the arms were stocked by the anti-Gaullist Secret Army Organization, which had opposed Algerian independence. The terrorist group has been largely inactive for the past year.

ROME (AP) — Administrative and technical employees in all Italian government offices started a two-day strike today for civil service reforms. They also want fringe benefit payments included in their over-all salary so they will get higher pensions.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan's foreign minister says the immediate danger of a conflict with India over a village on the Kashmir cease-fire line appears to have subsided.

Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto added Monday that the over-all situation in Kashmir State, claimed by both countries, remains dangerous.

Pakistan has accused India of massing troops in the neighborhood of Chaknot village, which is held by Pakistan. India countered with charges of warlike acts by the Pakistanis.

LEGS ON THE MARCH — Revealing chi-pad skirts and high heels were features of a parade of Nationalist Chinese Army Women's Corps on the Double Tenth anniversary in Taipei. Reviewing officers under marquee may have been on wrong side of line of march.

of the Senate Space Committee says the United States should be willing to discuss exchanging information with Russia on how to land a man on the moon.

In a statement Monday, the New Mexico Democrat said he did not regard remarks by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as rejecting President Kennedy's proposal for U.S.-Soviet cooperation on flights to the moon. Anderson said he felt Khrushchev's statement was "a deferential of a manned lunar landing."

Raymond E. Gould, Jr., filed a damage petition in Circuit Court Tuesday asking a $10,000 judgment against Bobbie Lee Copas, 1305 North Grand.

The petition evolved from an automobile accident in the 1400 block of West Broadway on May 11, 1963, involving the Gould and Copas autos.

Vandals Ordered To Arrange For Own Restitution

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Three former college students, accused of causing more than $5,000 in damage on a tire slashing spree Oct. 14, were sentenced Monday to contact personally over 100 owners of damaged autos.

Justice Ellsworth Gump found the trio guilty on charges of vagrancy and malicious destruction of property. He sentenced them to a year in jail, with all but 90 days suspended.

The youths—Michael L. Skovron, 20, Great Falls, Mont., Edward M. McElligott, 19, Anchorage, Alaska; and Phillip J. Sheridan, 18, Everett, Wash. — will serve 60 days of the sentence in jail.

The other 30 days they will split up, each taking a third of the owners of the 250 tires slashed. They will contact the owners, according to the sentence, to arrange for restitution.

They were earlier dropped from Gonzaga University here.
